CLASH WITH RUSSIA SHAPES IN UN SESSION

U. S. Expected To Wrangle with Soviets Over Discussion of Veto.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—A clash appeared to be developing today between the United States and Russia over the right of the United Nations general assembly to discuss small nation proposals for ending the big power veto in the security council.

The American delegation, in a meeting today under the leadership of Chief Delegate Warren Austin, decided that it would insist upon the full right of the assembly to discuss this and two other issues listed on a provisional agenda now before the assembly's steering committee.

This means that the United States is preparing to argue for full discussion of a proposal which it intends in the end to be against. The delegation favors rejecting all efforts to eliminate the great power veto, and in this respect is lined up with Russia. But it intends to try to restrict use of the veto and on that point likely will be in disagreement with Russia.

Committee To Meet

The steering committee, American informants said, is expected to meet late today or tomorrow to go over the list of 53 main items of assembly business which are supposed to come up once general debate, beginning today, is ended early next week.

In an informal meeting of the steering committee two days ago, Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky indicated—though American informants said he did not make it final—that Russia would oppose assembly discussions of:

1. Australian and Cuban proposals for ending the veto voting system by amending the charter.

2. A South African proposal for annexing the mandate of Southwest Africa. (The United States may or may not favor this project, but thinks it should be discussed.)

3. A Canadian plan for limiting assembly debate to ten minutes per speaker and otherwise speeding up procedure. (The United States is reported opposed to the plan, but feels it should be permitted to come up in the meeting.)

President Truman opened the assembly meeting here yesterday.

Mr. Truman disclosed the main lines of American policy on the veto issue in his speech. In it he also pledged that the United States "to the full limit of its strength" would continue to work for a "just and lasting peace" and urged that the United Nations get on with the tasks of controlling atomic energy, suppressing mass destruction weapons and otherwise creating the conditions of peace.

Prolonged Argument Seen

The veto issue appeared certain to kick up a prolonged argument in the assembly's general debate, beginning today after UN Secretary General Trygve Lie reports to the 51-nation body on the progress of the peace organization to date. Two full-dress sessions were scheduled—at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Cuban Delegate Guillermo Belt immediately challenged Russia to a fight to the finish on the reported Soviet opposition to discussions of the veto question.

Assembly President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium called the second session at 11:16 a. m., and immediately entered into the formalities of introducing the seven vice presidents and administering the oath of office to the eight assistant secretaries-general.

Many Diplomats Absent

Many top-flight diplomats were absent, including the chief of the Soviet delegation, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. In Molotov's absence, the Russian delegation was headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who took his place on the rostrum as one of the vice presidents.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie then gave a supplement to his report in which he called on the assembly to take action at the present session to give the other organs of the UN "comprehensive guidance" in determining their relations with the Franco regime in Spain, which he condemned.

Lie also reported that France,

First Community Fund Report Meeting Scheduled for Tonight

The first of the two report meetings scheduled for workers in the Marion Community Foundation's campaign to carry on the 1947 program, will be held tonight in the Masonic temple dining room. The workers will meet for dinner promptly at 6:30 o'clock and the meeting will be broadcast over WMRN at 7:45 o'clock.

The campaign to raise $67,190 to finance the work of the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Girl Reserves, Y.M.C.A. hospitalization medical care fund, USO and United Seamen's organization, got under way Monday night with a "kickoff" meeting at which division heads and workers held last-minute conferences and final details for the campaign were worked out.

E. L. Cleveland, head of the Community Foundation, and J. J. Stafford, campaign chairman, will be in charge of tonight's meeting. There will be dinner music and also selections by a selected quartet.

The campaign, as in former years, is being carried on in both the city and county. E. G. Siefert, who is in charge of the county solicitation has contacted interested persons in the various communities and today announced the completion of his committee. Added to yesterday's announced workers are Clyde Hinamon who will work in Grand Prairie township and Harry Longacre of Kirkpatrick.

FARM WORKER SUFFERS INJURY

Narrowly Escapes More Serious Hurts as Clothes Are Torn Off.

Maynard Buckingham of near Prospect is recovering at his home from painful injuries suffered Tuesday afternoon when his clothes became caught in the power takeoff of a tractor hitched to a combine on the farm of J. E. Kyle.

Buckingham, according to an account given by Mr. Kyle, who saw the accident, was sitting on the tractor when his trouser leg was caught in the machinery. Thrown to the ground, he seized hold of the rubber tired wheel of the tractor and held on. As the wheel revolved all his clothing was torn off except his shoes. Buckingham later said he feared the cuffs of the sleeves of his coveralls would not tear and he would be drawn into the machinery. A three inch leather belt was torn to pieces and a rule in his shirt pocket broken. His watch went through the machinery and was stopped at 2:30 p. m.

Mr. Buckingham received minor lacerations of the left upper arm and right hip. The accident happened on his thirty-seventh birthday.

Army Reveals New Glass Fiber Plane Soon To Take Air

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., Oct. 24—An Army plane, with glass fiber wings and fuselage, soon will be hurtling through the skies, the Air Materiel Command at Wright Field reported today.

The fuselage already has passed both ground and air tests. The glass fiber wing has met all strength test requirements and withstood "105 per cent of the required design load without any buckling or wrinkling of its glass-like surfaces," it was stated.

The wing has a 20-foot span and an over-all of 125 square feet.

The wing was described as containing only six structural parts and no rivets.

In size, the glass fiber wing compares with that on the Army AP-6 advanced trainer, officers said.

The engineers said it would insure greater speeds, could be repaired without altering the integrity of the structure, and would withstand heavy gunfire.

ASSAILS FOOD ORDER

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Oct. 24—Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO United Auto Workers, today assailed the removal of price ceilings on food as a blow to the "health and welfare of the American people."

Churchill Sues U. S. Author for Libel

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 24 — Winston Churchill sued Harper and Brothers, New York and London publishers, and author Louis Adamic today for libel, seeking damages for passages in Adamic's book "Dinner at the White House."

The suit also sought an injunction banning further publication and sale of the book, which was written around a White House dinner table conversation among President Roosevelt, Churchill., Adamic and other guests.

The libel writ listed no specific amount of damages, which in England are determined by a jury if it decides in favor of a plaintiff.

Auction Buyer Finds Curiosity Pays Off

By The Associated Press

LOUDONVILLE, O., Oct. 24—Curiosity sometimes pays off, Melvin Hoyer of Loudonville chuckled today.

While driving to Cleveland Saturday he paused at a farm auction beside the road. He bid 25 cents on a box, no one else bid and he got it.

In the box were a bunch of political campaign buttons, a couple of dirty vases and a tarnished watch.

He distributed the buttons among neighborhood children, cleaned up the watch and discovered it was an Elgin in running order, and turned the vases over to a sister-in-law to polish.

In one vase was a piece of folder paper, glued to the bottom.

She pried it out, unwrapped it and found five $20 bills.

Club Will Mark Navy Day Here with Tag Sale

Following the annual custom of holding an anchor day tag sale just preceding Navy Day which is Oct. 27, as a part of the national Navy rehabilitation program, the Marion Navy club and the auxiliary to the club will conduct their tag sale here Friday and Saturday in the downtown business district. The entire proceeds will go for the benefit of all Navy, Marine, and Coast Guardsmen who have served at any time in these branches of service.

Mayor Harry L. Dowler designated these two days as an opportunity for the citizens of Marion to aid the worthy Navy project. The sale will get under way at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon and continue until 9 p. m, Friday night and through all day Saturday. The Boy Scouts of the troop at Silver Street school, which is sponsored by the Marion Navy club, will assist in the sale, out of uniform. A dinner will be served in the Navy club rooms Friday evening by the women of the auxiliary to all those assisting with the sale.

The general committee for the drive is composed of Alfred Whittington, chairman, Harlan Pickett and Robert Porter. Headquarters will be in the club rooms on West Church street.

6 Students Jailed at Mt. Vernon for Night Club Fracas

By The Associated Press

MT. VERNON, O., Oct 24—Six Kenyon college football players, some of them war veterans, were jailed early today on charges of resisting and interfering with officers summoned to quiet a disturbance at the Sunset club, about four miles south of here.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Cochran said he and Deputy Donald Vernon were "jumped by a dozen or more" students when they attempted to arrest one of the youths on complaint of the club manager.

Cochran said they took Richard Pasley, 21, and Bert Furton, 21, to the Knox county jail shortly after midnight. When four of their friends came to intercede for them, the quartet also was locked up. The four were listed as William Funek, 21; David M. Dana, 20; Paul Newmann, 21, and David B. Pauly, 21.

All six were charged with resisting and interfering with an officer in the performance of his duty, Cochran reported.

MARION MAN NAMED HATCHERY PRESIDENT

Terrall Elected Head of Colonial Poultry Farms.

Ralph F. Terrall has been elected president of Colonial Poultry Farms at a stockholders meeting at Pleasant Hill, Mo., company officials announced today. He is manager of the company's branch here.

Mr. Terrall was formerly secretary of the company. He succeeds R. A. Padgett, who died in September.

He has been associated with the company for 16 years and has been manager of the Marion branch since August, 1942. Mr. and Mrs. Terrall and their two children came here from Florence, Colo., where he managed a Colonial hatchery. The family residence is on the Richland pike.

Before joining the Colonial Poultry Farms, Mr. Terrall was superintendent of schools in Pleasant Hill, Mo.

Mrs. Terrall said today she did not expect that Mr. Terrall's appointment would necessitate their leaving Marion. Mr. Terrall has not yet returned from Missouri.

Company officials say the Colonial Poultry Farms are the world's largest producers of baby chicks, with 12 hatcheries in nine states. They are Ohio, Missouri, Alabama, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Texas and Indiana.

Buyer Gets War Goods Definitely Surplus

By The Associated Press

EAST WEYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 24 — Samuel Schofield ordered some World War II army surplus commodities—and reports he received 64 bars of soap made for use in the Civil War.

On the label of each piece was the slogan, "Save Soap To Win the War," and the stamped signature, "Commander-in-Chief Abraham Lincoln."

Unrehearsed Drama Enacted As Lausche Bumps Into Herbert

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 24—An unrehearsed political one-act drama played to a chance audience in a hotel lobby here yesterday.

The characters were Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Republican Thomas J. Herbert, rivals in a heated gubernatorial contest in which they've been flinging oratorical campaign punches at each other almost every night of the last month.

Herbert: "Good afternoon, Governor."

Lausche: "Why hello there, Tom!" (Throwing out his hand.)

Herbert: "I'm going to pay my respect to you in Youngtown tonight." (Shaking hands).

Lausche: "Fine, fine—you know, if I'm not elected, I hope you are."

Truman Denies Rumor Clark To Be Replaced

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 — President Truman today described as absurd a reporter's question as to whether Attorney General Tom Clark may be replaced by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont).

Wheeler was listed to see Mr. Truman after the President's news conference.

Mr. Truman also described as absurd a question as to whether Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson was resigning from the supreme court.

Both reports, he said, were too absurd for comment.

PRIZE STEER BRINGS $44,375

15-Year-Old Boy Gets Check as Animal Sells for World Record.

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 24—A 15-year-old farm boy from Ida Grove, Ia., said goodbye to his grand champion Hereford steer today and pocketed almost with unbelief a check for $44,375—the price brought by the animal at auction at a world record price of $35.50 a pound.

Jack Hoffman, 4-H club member whose T. O. Pride was named 1946 grand champion steer of the American Royal Livestock show was still bewildered today by the bidding last night. E. W. Williams, of the Williams meat company, paid the record price. American Royal officials said the previous world record price was $11.50 a pound.

The tall farm youngster and Karl Hoffman, his father, were in the main arena as the price began to climb with some 100 bidders at the opening.

"I thought $4 a pound would be good," the youth said. "I figured it might go to $10 or $11 a pound. Even in hoping, I never had thought of more than $11 a pound."

But the bidding opened at $5 a pound. And there was a big grin on Jack's face as he led his 1,250-pound fortune in beef around the ring. The crowd of 7,000 at the night horse show stirred with excitement at the drama in the spotlighted arent.

When it was over, Jack could scarcely believe it. When the auctioneer called to him, "Jack do you think you can afford to sell for $35.50 a pound?" the boy's answer was a $44,375 grin.

As for T. O. Pride himself he will go on exhibition until Christmas. Then Williams plans to present $35.50-a-pound steaks to his friends and customers as Christmas gifts. Williams said he had been determined to have the steer at any price.

Truman Won't Give Election Forecast Nor Cover Wagers

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—President Truman declined today to say definitely whether he will make any campaign speeches and also laughingly turned aside a newsman's suggestion for a bet on the outcome of the Nov. 5 elections.

Election bets, the President explained, are illegal in Missouri, where he votes.

Covering a wide assortment of topics in response to fast-paced questions at a news conference, the President also said:

Any end to price ceilings on cotton textiles is up to Price Administrator Paul Porter and Agriculture Secretary Anderson.

The President has no intention of calling congress into special session.

Mr. Truman said he has no plans for any campaign speeches. Asked why he is "not going to speak for Democratic candidates" the President declared he had not said he would not speak, merely that he has no plans.

He said he has not, as did the late President Roosevelt, placed in a sealed envelope in his desk any bets with himself on the outcome of the election.

Laughing at a query whether he was willing to make "a small wager," Mr. Truman said it is against the law in Missouri to bet on elections and he expects to vote there.

And, he said, he thinks the people of the District of Columbia should have the same right to vote as other citizens, both in national elections and for their local government.

RUBBER STRIKE ENDS AS ANOTHER BEGINS

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Oct. 24—A strike at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. was expected to end today, but a fresh dispute which closed the Seiberling Rubber Co. continued to plague this center of the rubber industry.

The Seiberling strike at nearby Barberton began yesterday when, the CIO-United Rubber Workers said, a mill room employe was discharged for an undisclosed reason. Affected were 2,250 workers.

William S. Hackenberg, president of the union's Selberling local, said his first word of the dispute came when international URWA President L. S. Buckmaster telephoned "to ask why people were pouring out of the factory."

A company spokesman said no notification had been given the concern for the cause of the walkout and declared a union-called strike hadn't occurred during the company's 25 years of existence.

Meanwhile at Goodyear, where a week-long stoppage has idled some 10,000 employes and stopped tire production, union leaders said the end today of a week suspension given two mill room workers was expected to settle the dispute.

The two were suspended last Thursday when they walked out in protest against what they described as a "speedup." Other workers later stopped work despite union pleas that they return to their jobs and allow the grievance to be negotiated.

2 SOLDIER FUGITIVES CAPTURED AT VENICE

By The Associated Press

HAMILTON, O., Oct. 24—Two soldiers, charged with auto stealing and sought by a sheriff's posse of more than 100 men, were captured shortly before noon today in a cornfield near Venice, O., in southern Butler county.

Sheriff Charles Walke said the men, whom he identified as Herbert Goodwin, 17, Hamilton, O., and Robert Todd, 19, of Missouri, had been absent without leave from the army at Camp Scott Ill., since last April.

Walke said the pair would be questioned in connection with the beating and robbery of Edward Burkhardt, 52, a farmer, last Tuesday afternoon.

Burkhardt reported two men beat and robbed him of $80 in cash and a check for $217. An auto was taken from the driveway of Howard Wagenbach, Burkhardt's neighbor, shortly after the attack.

During the search, Hamilton Deputies Joseph Moffatt flew over the area near Venice shortly after the attack reportedly was [illegible] discovered in the village.

TRUMAN TURNS PROBLEM OVER TO SECRETARY

President Declines To Discuss Lewis Ultimatum at Press Conference.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—President Truman left the threat of another nation-wide soft coal strike squarely up to Secretary of Interior Krug today.

Mr. Truman declined to discuss John L. Lewis' ultimatum for a reopening of the United Mine Workers' contract at his news conference.

The President likewise declined to comment on questions as to his plans on continued wage controls, telling reporters to read his speech of Oct. 14 lifting price ceilings from meat.

Mr. Truman was asked if he planned any special action to decontrol wages by Nov. 1—the deadline which Lewis has set for the start of negotiations on a new contract to replace the existing pact between the United Mine Workers and the government.

In the Oct. 14 address, to which he referred reporters, Mr. Truman said that decontrol of meat necessitated speeding up removal of price ceilings all along the line and that this in turn would accelerate wage decontrol.

No Specific Action

Government officials have said this means that no specific action to lift wage lids is likely but that rather the administration will follow a policy of having pay controls fall off automatically as individual industries are freed of price controls.

At his news conference today, Mr. Truman would not be drawn into any elaboration of his statement that the answer on wages could be found in his speech on meat.

Pressed by a reporter as to whether he meant there will be no formal wage decontrol order, the President reiterated that that had been covered in his speech last week.

In demanding reopening of the wage agreement covering 400,000 soft coal miners, Lewis had cited changes in the administration wage policy as one of the reasons for his action.

The UMW chief told Secretary Krug that unless new wage talks begin Nov. 1, the existing contract would be "void." Although Krug has expressed doubt of a walkout on that date, the miners traditionally have observed a policy of "no contract, no work."

Krug told newsmen in Boulder City, Nev., last night that he didn't see how he could be in Washington Nov. 1.

Discounts Walkout

"But I don't think they will walk out," he added. "After all, the time and place of the meeting have been set."

Krug did not specify either the time or place "set"—one of the major points in dispute—and presumably referred only to the fact that he has offered to meet Lewis either at Tule Lake, Calif., on Nov. 1 or in Washington after Nov. 6 when his western inspection tour is due to end.

While Lewis himself remained silent, William Blizzard, president of the United Mine Workers District 17 assailed what he termed the government's one-sided interpretation of the existing contract as "a plot by unscrupulous members of the Democratic party to destroy our union."

"The miners should vote like they strike," Blizzard told a reporter at Charleston, W. Va.

Charges Conspiracy

The government's [illegible] effort—and the Democratic senator and congressmen from West Virginia as well as the CIO political action committee are all tied up in it—has been aimed at ruining our contract [illegible] making it with us."

Simultaneously, the National Coal association — representing for the first time on the wage crisis brewing in their industry — declared the strike threat amounts to "a challenge to the government's authority."

MORE MONEY, LESS BUYING POWER SEEN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24.—More money but less purchasing power is the 1947 economic picture painted for Ohio farmers yesterday by Ohio State university agriculture extension economists.

"The purchasing power of the farmers' dollar seems likely to decline some in the next year as a result of prices paid by farmers increasing more rapidly than prices received," the economists stated.

In a paper prepared for presentation to a conference of extension workers and agricultural leaders, they also foresaw declining agricultural prices in coming years.

"Prices paid by farmers advanced 59 per cent from previous years to August, 1946, but prices received by Ohio farmers advanced 138 per cent in this same period," the report continued.

"But prices paid have moved upward much more rapidly in recent months. In 1945, prices paid advanced only 2 per cent. Since January of this year, the increase has amounted to 15 per cent, and 16 per cent of this increase took place between May and August."

The economists said that "as after 1920," prices paid by farmers for processed goods are likely to remain higher than prices received from agricultural products.

"Higher wage rates, not accompanied by corresponding increased labor efficiency, will tend to drive finished products to higher levels," they concluded.

Four reasons are given by the OSU economists for a long-time outlook of declining farm prices. They include continued high farm production, less eating with less income, decreased exports, and less food needed for the military services.

Halloween Party Held by Progressive Grange

A Halloween party was the feature of the evening when Progressive Grange met Tuesday night in the Grange hall east of Marion. A program of games and contests was in charge of Miss Alice Price, lecturer, with the prize for the cleverest costume going to Mrs. Robert Blank. A reading, "Origin of Halloween," was given by Miss Margaret Austin, and Mrs. David Hughes presented a reading, "The Spooks."

During the meeting, the Grange voted to hold the next meeting Nov. 12 instead of the regular night Nov. 5. This is due to election day. At the next meeting, a potluck supper at 7:30 p. m. for members and their families will precede the meeting. The men of the grange will serve, and all families are to bring a covered dish, sandwiches and their own service. Orchestra rehearsal was held following the meeting under the direction of Mrs. Cecil Davis. The next practice will be Nov. 3 at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Davis on St. James street.

WALSH DROPS TRUMAN TIES

President Ignored by Massachusetts Senator in Bid for Reelection.

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Political Reporter

BOSTON, Oct. 23 — Senator David I. Walsh has cut any Massachusetts ties he may have had with the Truman administration and is waging a lone-hand fight for his political life against the strongest challenge presented to his reelection by Republican Henry Cabot Lodge.

Walsh, 73-year old veteran who is serving his twenty-sixth year in the senate, is running on his pro-labor, big navy record, with no mention of President Truman or the national administration. He is being strongly opposed by Lodge, 44 years old, who quit the senate after his reelection in 1942 to enter the armed forces.

Issue Called Close

Most political observers here agree that, in a campaign which is almost painfully polite in its absence of the customary recriminations between candidates, the issue is so close the result might be determined by the extent of the protest vote of the still short supplies of meat and other commodities.

Walsh, who opposed the late President Roosevelt's prewar foreign policies and hasn't always gone along with Truman administration proposals, told this reporter he believes he will be less affected by this "irritation" vote than most of his senatorial colleagues.

While Walsh and Lodge continue to engage in gentlemanly political sparring in the best Back-Bay tradition, there apparently aren't going to be many punches barred in the slam-bang battle Robert F. Bradford (R) is waging to defeat the bid of Democratic Gov. Maurice J. Tobin for reelection.

"Tobin, Truman and Trouble."

Bradford, 43 year old Republican who was elected lieutenant governor by 90,000 in 1944 when Tobin won the governorship, has been talking about "Tobin, Truman and Trouble." Campaigning on a platform to "straighten things out in Massachusetts," he has been trying diligently to line the Tobin and Truman administrations with meat and other shortages.

The 45-year-old governor, generally looked upon until three weeks ago as an almost certain winner, is beginning to strike back in a suddenly spurted campaign. Using a plane, he is filling a dozen engagements daily.

There is only mild general interest in congressional races, although in Massachusetts it is the Republicans, and not the Democrats, who are on the defensive.

While the Democrats are campaigning lustily in an attempt to defeat house minority leader Joseph Martin with Mrs. Martha Sharp in the Fourteenth district and the CIO is gunning for Rep. Charles R. Clason (R) in the second, most observers believe the state's delegation will remain at 10 Republicans and four Democrats after the votes are counted Nov. 5.

SAW RED KILLING — Miss Carolyn Wysor, Cleveland, was one of a party of four taking pictures in the Russian zone of Berlin, when Soviet military police ordered them to headquarters. Harry D. Flory Jr. a member of the party, was killed as the quartet attempted to escape in a jeep and were fired upon by the Russians. Miss Wysor is a daughter of Rufus J. CONVENTION HEARS MARION RADIO HEAD

Stations' Community Leadership Reported by Mason.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 24 — A radio station manager from Marion, O., said yesterday that many small stations had taken up "the mantle of community leadership" formerly borne by each town's newspapers.

"By the very economic necessity of struggling to get on a sound financial basis—to arouse a community consciousness that would result in a loyal listening audience—the manager of the small market station has had to personally engage in almost every community activity," Robert T. Mason, of station WMRN, Marion told the 24th annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Mason said he had conducted a nationwide survey in which 26 stations reported their staff members held a total of 214 positions in 31 organizations.

One station manager and one chief announcer were serving in congress and officials of two stations have been elected mayors of their cities, Mason said. Seven broadcasters served on school boards and another was a judge, he added.

"Every state that I have contacted," Mason said, "can offer dozens of instances where the station has originated, developed, supported and accomplished community-wide projects which today would not be in existence if it were not for the vision, the aggressiveness and the ability of the small market station manager.

"A few such accomplishments are new hospitals, memorial parks, new schools, swimming pools, airports, all voted by the people of various communities as a result of intensive educational programs by their radio stations."

S. W. Miller, Former Marion Resident, Dies

Samuel W. Miller, 66, formerly of Marion, died yesterday afternoon in St. Joseph hospital in Omaha, Neb., where he made his home, after an illness of a week.

A native of Ireland, he was born Nov. 17, 1879. left Marion when a young man for the west, lived for some time at Englewood, Calif., then moved to Omaha about six months ago. He worked for the Union Pacific railroad. His wife preceded him in death some time ago.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Vivian Miller of Los Angeles, Calif., and two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Llewellyn of 233 Spencer street, and Mrs. R. W. Freeman of North Prospect street.

Burial will be at Englewood, Calif.

Two Boys Get Terms in Theft of LaRue Car

Two 14-year-old Marion youths, charged with stealing an automobile here Oct. 16 and driving it to Urbana, were given indeterminate sentences in the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster yesterday by Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast.

The youths are in the Marion county detention home and probably will be taken to Lancaster tomorrow, juvenile authorities said.

The youths pleaded guilty to charges of stealing the automobile of Homer Armstrong of LaRue route 2 from near the Marion Power Shovel Co. about 7 a. m. Oct. 16. One of the boys said they planned to drive to Indiana to visit his uncle, but ran out of gas near Urbana. They were picked up by the sheriff at Urbana when they sought aid from employes at a city barn there.

One of the youths previously has served time at the B. I. S., having been paroled from there in 1944., juvenile authorities said.

MT. VICTORY V.F.W. POST WINDS UP DRIVE

Vets Consider Purchase of Home and Community Center

MT. VICTORY—Completion of a four week membership drive in the communities of Byhalia, Ridgeway, and Mt. Victory was announced by Commander Richard Rizor of the William Britten Post No. 6817 Mt. Victory Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The competitive membership drive was headed by team captains Eldridge Pennock and John Davis, with the losing side banqueting the winners. The local VFW post with 102 members is now one of the largest and strongest posts for the size of the community represented in the state of Ohio.

Plans are now under completion for the purchase of a building and two adjoining acres of land, which will not only be a meeting place and headquarters for the post, but will also be available as a community center, with the development of a public playground and park in the near future.

Commander Rizor also announced that the first of a series of entertainment programs for Mt. Victory and surrounding communities will start with the annual box supper next Wednesday evening, Oct. 23, 1946, at the Mt. Victory Town Hall at 8 o'clock p. m.

Officers and members of the post here have received much help and encouragement from local people and wish to express their appreciation.

Analyst Sees Peril in Dollar Diplomacy Game

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Recent indications that the United States was prepared to encourage friendly nations first in distributing relief and rehabilitation supplies when UNRRA ends now has been followed with a definite refusal to lend money where it may be used against us.

However, the United States will overplay its hand if it values the effect of loan restrictions for more than they are worth. Hitler's bankrupt Germany, which many felt would "never be able to finance a long war," dashed forever and a day the idea that orderly financing is always necessary within a totalitarian system. Probably no idea in the world could do quite so well if completely isolated from world commerce, as that which the Russians now control.

Received With Shrug

As a matter of fact, reports from Washington that the new policy, first enunciated in the case of Czechoslovakia, might apply to a proposed $1,000,000,000 loan for Russia probably were received in Moscow with a shrug. They have been in a far from begging attitude.

Word traveled back and forth between Washington and Moscow through unofficial channels a long time ago that the United States might arrange a rehabilitation loan and that the Russians might use $6,000,000,000 principally to buy equipment in the U. S. That would have been nice for American industry when the shortages are over, and might have resulted in some side deals regarding commerce in the Russian sphere, where the Moscow game of freeze-out has been bothering those who look ahead to the time when America will be exporting again, and who feel that trade barriers contribute to international enmity.

The Russians finally wrote a letter inquiring what the terms of such a loan might be if they did ask for it. It boiled down to an initial deal of $1,000,000,000. The letter got shunted aside for many weeks while the state department was absorbing some of the wartime agencies which dealt with such matters, but finally came to light and the Russians were told in effect, "Well, we'd like to talk about free traffic on the Danube, at the same time." The Russians said "You know how we feel about that. Why don't we talk about the interest rate."

Not Willing to Barter

It became apparent that the Russians were willing but not so needy as to barter any part of their foreign policy. Instead, they made a deal with Sweden to cover some of their more immediate needs. Presumably, too, Russia will see that her satellites have the machinery and materials with which to work as long as they are producing mostly for her.

The Russians could be regretting the weapon they handed Byrnes at Paris when they questioned America's motives in aiding the small countries. He has made good political use of it. But Russia could also consider a temporary loss of face worthwhile if its end result is to drive the satellites more firmly into her economic arms.

Chance Visit to Store Chases Away Burglars

A chance visit to the grocery store at 900 Bennett street last night at 8 to show it to a friend saved Claire Reiser what might have been considerable loss when they frightened away intruders who were making ready to loot the store.

Mr. Reiser said he and his wife and friend entered the store by the front door and heard noises in a rear room. When they investigated they found the rear door open and cigarets, candy and other merchandise piled up, apparently being gathered together by the intruders.

Only about 55 cents, taken from the cash register, was missing, Reiser told police. Entrance was gained by breaking open a rear window.

INVENTIONS BARRED, U. S. OFFICIAL SAYS

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Oct. 24—U. S. Attorney General Tom C. Clark declared today that monopolists have barred discovered products and inventions from the American market and that "vitamins have been kept from the poor and the lame."

Charging that there is "a minority * * * of greedy men * * * who would wrestle our way of life," the attorney general said in a speech prepared for the 21st annual meeting of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts.

"You have also read stories about the suppressions of inventions and the smothering of discoveries.

"You know about the match trust and its miracle match which could light one thousand times but which never reached the market. No conventional monopolist would think of allowing such a match to reach the consumer."

Clark continued with these monopoly charges:

"The introduction of fluorescent lighting was retarded.

"So that more electric lamps could be sold, the manufacturers built them with shorter life.

"Vitamins have been kept from the poor and the lame. Vitamin D is a boon to children with rickets * * * rickets are most prevalent with the poor and the poor are also the largest consumers of oleomargarine."

Clark said that some years ago a university foundation located in a butter producing area" obtained sole right to the use of an artificial method of producing vitamin D in foods.

"The foundation," he continued, denied licenses for irradiating oleomargarine with vitamin D to manufacturers of oleomargarine because the patent holder was, as the inventor said, unsympathetic to oleomargarine."

Pennsylvania Beer Strike Plans Set

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24—With close to a score of breweries already shut down in Pennsylvania, start of a statewide strike of AFL-Brewery Workers today awaited only formal approval of high union councils.

The action was decided on at a meeting of business agents of 56 AFL-Teamster Union locals yesterday as their new step in a jurisdictional fight with the CIO-United Brewery Workers.

Resentment Vote

EVIDENCE piles up with each new report from election prophets that a significantly large number of voters have been planning on to something that has been money in the bank for Democratic political strategists since 1932.

Now, as strong out the lumbering lineage in the electorate like resentment. It was resentment against the depression that elected Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932. Resentment had wiped out the Republican majority in the House of Representatives in 1930.

In every national election after 1932, Democrats shrewdly harped on the theme that Herbert Hoover, single-handed, had produced the depression. They hanged him in effigy from every speaker's stump and pilloried him in every platform. They worked the resentment theme for all it was worth—and it was worth their longest reign in office since before the Civil war.

But resentment is not static. It finds new targets. The Democrats would like to persuade their followers to keep voting against Hoover and the depression, but they're discovering that voters have found more recent things in their experiences to resent. Almost 14 years in power have given the people grievances that cannot conceivably be blamed on a chief executive who went out of office when this election's first-time voters were barely out of kindergarten.

There is no way to measure in advance of the election how far resentment is going to go in this off-year election. There is no need to measure it; the important thing for politicians is that it exists and is growing. The resentment vote has changed hands and now is working 24 hours a day against the political party which made the most ruthless use of it ever witnessed in the United States. It is to the credit of the Republicans that they have used no Michelsons to smear President Truman and have needed none. The resentment that the Democratic party is earning for itself is vastly greater than anything the opposition could bestow on it.

United Nations at Home

CLOSE to the top of the order of United Nations assembly business is a fresh decision about its permanent home. A lot of insults have gone over the loudspeaker system since delegates plumped for that controversial site straddling New York's Westchester and Fairfield counties.

Some of them are said to be thinking seriously about the empty tomb of the League of Nations at Geneva, Switzerland. What is not generally known is that the Geneva site was ruled out originally by hard feeling between the Soviet Union and Switzerland.

In 1923 the Russian delegate to the international conference at Lausanne was assassinated by an anti-Communist Russian of Swiss descent. When the assassin was acquitted by a Swiss court, Moscow broke off diplomatic relations with Switzerland and announced it never would permit a representative to enter the country. Last April, diplomatic relations were renewed between the two governments.

The necessary buildings already are erected in Geneva. Living costs are low. The Swiss atmosphere is heady, and the Swiss welcome mat is out. The embattled patriots of Westchester and Fairfield counties can be at ease. The probability of invasion is vanishing. Russia has withdrawn its veto of Geneva as the logical site for the second attempt to secure peace by syndicate. That was the only formidable objection that stood in the way.

Who Rescues Uncle Sam?

JOHN L. LEWIS, who never fails in the pinches, has given the United States government a hot one to handle: who rescues Uncle Sam after Uncle Sam has rescued the United Mine Workers?

Mr. Lewis is proposing (tacitly, of course, to stay out of trouble with the Smith-Connally Act) a strike against the United States government if it does not open negotiations on Nov. 1 for a new contract. It has been operating the coal mines since last May 21.

Secretary of Interior Krug, whose department is in charge of operations, declares that the government's contract cannot be reopened, that it has been living up to the contract and that he is shocked at the peremptory demand of the mine workers' chieftain. It is difficult to understand why Mr. Krug should be shocked, however. It is difficult to understand why anyone should be shocked by John L. Lewis.

His tactics are to get the opposition on the defensive. It is only a few more days until election, which is a good talking point for the miners' chieftain; part of Mr. Krug's job is to keep as many voters as possible from getting peeved at Democrats before election day. Furthermore, it is only a matter of a few weeks at the most before all government controls will be removed from wages, which would leave Mr. Lewis free to bargain collectively with mine owners. This may be the key to his strategy, the answer to the question of who rescues Uncle Sam when Uncle Sam is through rescuing miners. It may be Mr. Lewis' idea to have the mine owners come to the rescue this time.

UN Picks Home in Only Area Where It's Not Wanted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—The United Nations pact for peace having been signed at nearly every turn new progress is being made.

Having looked over the entire world for a place to locate itself, its temporary site commission (with assembly approval) selected the only area where it was not wanted, San Francisco wanted it, Geneva. Even the Flushing Meadows owned in the public American name by the city, wanted it. Over 50 cities in the United States wanted it. All these, the TSC turned down to go after five cities, where some American citizens were outraged at the prospect of being forced to leave the homes and communities they had built for themselves and their families with their own earned cash.

True enough, the Stamford (Conn.) labor union wanted it around and the Stamford Chamber of Commerce also thought some money might be made locally, but ultimately hands of Westchester county citizens were formed to get lawyers to protect homeowners' rights from being dispossessed with no place to go. The union owns no property, and the chamber nothing of area-consequence. The actual holders of the community actually rose up in legal arms—and promised indefinite legal action to keep UN out. In a vote, nearby Greenwich went 5,595 to 2,019 not to welcome what has in literary circles been called "the capital of the world," although it is far from being the capital of anything yet.

U. S. Remains Neutral

The decision was far more than a rather brutal legal attempt of UN to elbow its way into a place it was not wanted—and this on the part of a world assembly supposed to represent good will among all men, cooperation and a united effort to defend law and order against violations of the rights of men. Its unreasonable stand happened to be defended by law by a peculiar circumstance. The United States had said it would remain neutral in this original site-selection of UN. Above it has inexplicably remained, as if the rights of its own citizens were none of its concern. No statements have been issued; no preference expressed. We even refrained from voting in the commission. But this same United States government has promised to pay, with a great condemning force it has, any site selected by UN, getting the cost later—maybe—out of UN in one sentence, this government has promised to advance the money to repudiate its own property laws and seize the homes of its unwilling citizens to effectuate a decision voted for—yes voted for—only by Russia, Australia, China and Latin America, a decision opposed by the British, and in which the United States promises to advance to play the dupe.

Was there ever a greater challenge to reason, justice and fair play by a new world organization supposed to represent just those and usher in a new world?

In reason or justice actually, the idea has no understandable basis. The excuse of the TSC for such a monstrous affront to ordinary and legal decency was threefold: (A) educational facilities for its children, (B) communications and (C) cultural advantages of being near a big city. Actually it will house 12,000 people and can carry all three of these factors with it wherever it goes. Educational and communications facilities will be provided according to its demands, while its culture will be what it makes it.

Political Decision

My personal study of the matter has convinced me the TSC commission made a political decision, a subtle one. It selected probably the most costly suburban land in the entire world, where the slightest common sense would have directed it to choose cheap land, a park area like the one on the Hudson or the reclaimed Flushing Meadows owned by the city, from which no one would be dispossessed. Its decision would have been no more astonishing if it decided it wanted Fifth avenue, and made all the department stores move over to Third avenue, or if Russia had decided to favor Wall Street and required the U. S. government to buy all the bank buildings for it in violation of the home owning rights of its citizens. This is what I believe to be the inside of the matter, and I hope I have made my suspicions clear. No other explanation suffices.

The site question is now up before the permanent commission, and the original mistake into which someone wanted to plunge UN at the outset should be corrected. If UN wants a reputation for justice, it should start establishing same. If it ever wants to get its buildings erected before another war starts, it had better choose a peaceful home and not violate its own principles in its first decision. The people of Westchester will fight to keep what they have built up, and the matter will get into the courts indefinitely, where considerations of justice may show, as I said at the outset, that the UN has started off incongruously to preserve peace by vetoing itself and promoting strife.

Did Truman Hash G. O. P. Beef?

Republican leaders are reported hoping meat will not return in appreciable quantities before the November fifth elections.

After fourteen years out of office, the G. O. P. is hungrier than pork.

Republicans were set to capitalize on the meat shortage before President Truman gave them and the people something to chew on. They had already dusted off an old slogan: "Tippecanoe and Irish Stew—Vote Republican! Bring Home the Bacon."

The only planks they'd have needed in their platform were the kind on which you serve steak. There have been no poultry promises like Hoover's "chicken in every pot." There was real meat on their bone of contention.

But Truman double-crossed them by decontrolling meat on election eve. He made the move after a nationwide survey revealed the only thing cooking was the Democrats' goose.

Of course, whether the President acted in time remains to be seen. What's on the menu: Meat or defeat? Are Republican victory hopes justified . . . or stone cold dead in the market?

The Battle for Congress

By RAYMOND MOLEY

(This is the first of a series of six articles on the congressional elections.)

• • •

IN the six issues of this column to be published before election this reporter will attempt to sum up the congressional campaign. The analysis will be based mainly on personal visits since July to 16 states, from Rhode Island to California, on reliable contacts in ten other states and on rechecks during the past week. In the main, this survey is based on the judgments of newspaper men, for good reporters must be realistic. They cannot indulge in the auto-intoxication so common to candidates and professional politicians.

The gift of accurate political prophecy is given to no one, although hardy people yield to it. When this survey is finished, the reader will find many an "if" and plenty of reticence. All that can reasonably be expected from an extensive perspective on so complicated a scene is a statement of available facts and conditions, with suggestions of trends which may or may not be present. The reader must draw his own conclusions, with the reservations appropriate to the changing ideas, prejudices and uncertainties still locked in the minds of millions of voters.

Objective Stated

The simplest way to state the objective is this: Can Republicans control the eightieth congress? Can they elect 218 house members and 49 senators? Let us begin with the house.

It will be easier not to consider the relatively few seats Republicans must add to their membership in the seventy-Ninth congress, but to start from scratch and add up the number they stand to elect. Most surveys, including those of the Republican national committee, consider the additional seats needed. But that is deceptive, because when the statistics of the 1944 election are viewed, there are more narrowly held Republican seats than Democratic. Moreover, any calculation based on an over-all national percentage of a gain in Republican votes ignores the great variation in present conditions among states. In Ohio, for example, it is evident that Bricker, the leading Republican on the ticket, is far ahead. In Missouri, the leading Republican candidate, Kem, has less of an advantage over his opponent. A Republican running for a house seat in Ohio will get more help from Bricker than a Republican in Missouri will get from Kem.

And so, out of 435 districts, where can Republicans get 218 seats.

One hundred and one sure Democratic seats are in the states touching the salt water, from Virginia to Texas, and in Arkansas, Rhode Island, Arizona and Utah. In Maryland and Tennessee, the present status is not likely to change. That will give the Democrats 114 sure seats in 15 states.

Republican Field

With the Republican field of opportunity thus cut to 321, the long march to 218 can begin.

It is easy to guess the results in eight states, which might be called the Solid Republican North. These states are Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Oregon, North Dakota and South Dakota. These 30 seats, with three sure Republican seats from Maryland and Tennessee, start the climb with 33 almost certain Republican seats.

Massachusetts can easily be disposed of. No one expects a change in the present Republican house delegation of ten. Two more states seem, at this point, to be settled—Connecticut and Ohio. Very strong senatorial candidates, Bricker and Baldwin, will probably provide 20 Republican seats in Ohio and four in Connecticut.

In Michigan, the Republican tide is strong, and the Democratic organization is in bad shape. A conservative estimate is that the Republican house membership will be increased from 11 to 13.

The states considered in this column, therefore, will provide a minimum of 80 of the necessary 218.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Oct. 24, 1936. Marion awoke to the first killing frost of the season, marking the first time in years Jack Frost had arrived so late in the fall. Oct. 10 was the average date for a killing frost in this vicinity, persons keeping a check on the calendar reported. According to official weather statistics the earliest on record here was on Sept. 14, 1902. The mercury slid to 32, the 1936 record showed.

A former Marion man, Harrison C. Fidler of Akron, son of Mrs. E. B. Fidler of South Main street, won a round-the-world contest for the closest estimate of H. R. Elkins' flying time in circling the globe, sponsored by Scripps-Howard newspapers. The award was a round trip anywhere on a TWA airliner. Mr. Fidler, who was visiting his mother, chose Los Angeles, Calif. His estimate was 202 hours, 46 minutes and 33 seconds, only 20 minutes and 33 seconds over the exact time Mr. Elkins spent in the air.

Miss Sarah Smithson, 83, last of one of the old families of Claridon, died at her home one-half mile south of the village.

Mrs. John Davis of Congress street entertained with a dinner and shower complimenting Mrs. Willard Ginder, a recent bride. Mrs. Ginder was the former Edna Devenney.

Collections for the sale of sales tax stamps in the office of County Treasurer Homer D. Cole during the week totalled $7,587.28, an increase of $562.81 over the preceding week.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Oct. 24, 1926.

Mrs. Mary C. Highland, 58, died at her home on North State street.

Miss Viola Etoling of Marion and Vonie Richards of Lodi were united in marriage by Dr. B. L. George at Epworth M. E. parsonage.

Miss Christina Ulmer, 75, died at her home on the Mautz and Owens road where she was born and spent her entire life.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Weimer of Cleveland avenue had as their week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sarff and two children and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sarff and son of Union City, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. O'Brien and daughter, Mary of Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schroeter and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard S. Brady and daughter of Cleveland and Robert and John Schroeter of Columbus were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schroeter on East Center street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Shade of South State street returned from Cincinnati, where they attended a meeting of the Cincinnati section of the American Tennis society.

Vetoes Versus Agreements

By WALTER LIPPMANN

PRESIDENT TRUMAN in his address to the United Nations General Assembly made one remark which very much needed saying as the assembly prepares to discuss the veto. "The exercise of neither veto rights nor majority rights can make peace secure; there is no substitute for agreements that are universally acceptable because they are just to all concerned."

This is the first time, so far as I know, that any American official, who can speak with authority, has recognized that there is a connection between the use of the veto and the use of the veto.

Yet experience since San Francisco has shown that the two devices produce a vicious circle. The veto would not have been used so often if so many questions had not been put to a vote; and so many questions would not have been put to a vote if the threat of a veto had not been so frequent.

The veto has been the special, though not the exclusive, instrument of the Russians because in any international gathering they can almost never command a majority of votes. And the insistence on voting, indeed on public voting, has been our special instrument because we can usually command a majority of votes.

The result has shown how right the President is in saying that neither vetoes nor votes can make peace secure. In a world of sovereign states there is no substitute for agreements that are acceptable—no substitute therefore for diplomacy, which is the art of inducing and compelling agreements.

Agreements Blocked

The attempt to operate the security council, the assembly and the peace conference as if they were legislatures has obstructed agreement and aggravated the disputes. For the United Nations are not a world government.

Perhaps they should be. Perhaps eventually they will be. But until they are a world government, important questions cannot be decided by a count of votes. They have to be settled by negotiation, and they are not settled until those governments whose help the chief interest in the question are agreed on the settlement.

We are suffering from an optical illusion if we think that international voting is democratic. It is democratic to give all persons an equal vote. But when you give all governments an equal vote, you get the greatest possible inequality in the representation of people.

The rights of small nations are very precious indeed. But they need not be and should not be invoked so as to deny the rights of the peoples of greater size. Yet just a few recall and confuse the equality of states with the equality of men.

If and when mankind is ready for a world government, then questions can be decided by a count of votes. But the votes that are counted will then have to represent in some just proportion the peoples of the world. Until then the use of the veto, and its inevitable corollary the veto, should be regarded not as a normal method of dealing with unsettled questions but as a last resort and as a counsel of desperation signifying that diplomacy has failed.

Way To Prevent Abuse

The only way to prevent the abuse of the veto is to couple it with prevention of the abuse of the veto. This is to the advantage of all, not merely of the Russians. For while Molotov may have been embarrassed in Paris by the majorities against him, he has not had to give in to these majorities.

On the other hand, once the field of interest is shifted from countries in the Russian orbit to Germany, to Japan, and to the colonial and dependent areas of the globe, the device of voting can be, and most surely will be, exploited by Molotov to embarrass us considerably and to embarrass the British acutely.

We shall then be resorting to the veto in order to avoid having to vote on questions where the Russians, who have no overseas empire, can be uninhibited about general principles.

For votes and vetoes among sovereign states do not settle issues. They adjourn the failure to settle, and place the governments in a position where, once they have voted, they can no longer agree without surrender, retreat and appeasement.

Almost certainly the deepest objection to the veto arises from the belief that the charter, as now written, permits a great power to wage aggressive war. That apparently is what Bernard Baruch has in mind. But I believe that this is not the true situation. For one thing, the judgment of Nuernberg transcends the veto, in so far as any great power might invoke it in order to wage aggressive war. Such a war is a crime, veto or no veto, for which the government and its rulers are accountable.

Collective Defense Authorized

For another, it is not, I believe, true that the veto deprives the United Nations of the right to resist collectively a great power. Those who think that have, I submit, overlooked Article 51 of the charter which says:

"Nothing in the present charter shall impair the inherent right of individual or collective self-defense, if an armed attack occurs against a member of the United Nations, until the security council has taken the measures necessary to maintain international peace and security."

If this means anything, and surely it means a lot, the United

Apple-Pie Order

By TRUMAN TWILL

Apple knockers of the Yakima Valley (Wash are asking newspaper support for a revival apple-pie eating. Their motive is selfish, b what they are trying to do deserves support.

What has been happening to apple pie in th country shouldn't happen to a custard. Blac smiths masquerading as pastry cooks have be tearing down its prestige as an American institution. Their dirty work finally is beginning hurt the apple industry at the core.

Certainly it has been hurting consumers apple pie, and they will welcome any assistan that comes their way. They're still sold on th proposition that apple pie can't be beaten wh it's right, but are beginning to wonder wh happened to all the people who used to kno how to bake one right.

Everything that an apple pie shouldn't be h been foisted off on a hungry public willing take one more chance. The apple pie has be abused as grievously as the mashed potato, esp cially during the war years when public coo were able to get away with murder. They've been having things their own way, thanks shortages that have penalized home-cooking.

We saw an example of their criminal hand work in a restaurant a few days ago, a typic example, a pallid wedge of anemic dough and upholstered with a sickly yellow paste of wh purported to be apple, but might have bee almost anything. It wasn't even a marsh wedge, but a junior-size edition with a full grown price. There, Yakimans, is what's wro with apple pie. The original version is bein manhandled by the same circumstances whic have been engulfing this noble land with unreasonable facsimiles of a lot of other things used to cherish.

An apple pie must contain apples—succulent chunks of apple. It must look like apple pie an taste like apple pie, not like watered-dow applesauce encased in wet cardboard. Its crus must be brown and it must crumble when pre sure is applied. It must never, never be soggy.

It must make the consumer start thinkin about another piece at the first bite, instead o glumly going through the motions of getting t of one more disappointment. There must b something there to make the salivary glan squirt and the inner man sigh with contentment. There must be juice and aroma, and a piece sharp cheese on the side to whet the taste bu between bites.

There must be loving care and a desire please, not just the drudgery of making a do pie for one more sucker to buy a piece of. App pie, properly prepared, is a rite, not a merely commercial operation. There is the root of th trouble. Yakimans, add more power to you Start an apple-pie institute to teach cooks ho to bake apple pies in the great tradition an you'll have no trouble peddling your apple. Apple-pie eating will take care of itself. At lea a hundred million people in this country are looking for some really good apple pie to eat and not finding any.

VETERANS' NEWS AND INFORMATION

Prepared by The Public Relations Service, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 6, 52 S. Starling street, Columbus, 8, Ohio. Phone Main 6361; Ext. 281.

NSLI ACCOUNTS MOVED TO BRANCH SIX OFFICE

National Service Life Insurance policies of World War II veterans of Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky are now located at the Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 6, 52 South Starling street, Columbus 8, O.

Establishment of the Columbus Branch Office as insurance headquarters for the three-state area is another step in the VA's over-all decentralization program designed to place the administering of veterans' affairs in 13 Branch Offices located strategically throughout the country.

With the transfer of over 1,700,000 NSLI accounts from the New York office to Columbus, World War II vets in the three-state area will now send their premium payments to the Columbus Branch Office address. As a matter of convenience veterans (or their dependents) can pay insurance premiums at the nearest VA paystation.

After Nov. 1, insurance officials at the Columbus office will be in a position to answer all inquiries pertaining to the inactive insurance accounts, or to the status of policies now in force. Anticipating these requests, over 450,000 cards with the insurance account number, and the Columbus Branch address for payment of premiums, have been mailed to current accounts within the Branch area.

G.I. BILL AMENDS REFRESHER COURSES

Veterans over 25 years of age who have already received one-year refresher courses under the original G.I. Bill may still be eligible for additional education or training, according to VA officials at the Columbus Branch Office.

Under the original G.I. Bill, education and training rights of veterans over 25 were limited to one-year refresher courses. Last January, the G.I. Bill was amended so as to eliminate the "age" clause, and extended to those veterans the same benefits offered those in lower age brackets, whose educational and apprenticeship range to a maximum of four years, and training on-the-job up to two years.

Under the new interpretation of the G.I. Bill, a veteran over 25 who had pursued a course of training under the original Bill, may, upon request to the nearest VA office, receive a supplemental certificate of eligibility. This, it was explained, will authorize educational or training benefits to the full period of entitlement, based on length of active service.

VA COMPENSATION TO CHILDREN INCREASING

Approximately 10,000 children whose fathers died as a result of World War II service are receiving monthly compensation benefits in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky, the Veterans Administration Columbus Branch Office for the three states reported.

Compensation for each child ranges from $15.60 to $30 a month. The widow is entitled to receive $60 monthly for herself and $18 for one child, plus $15.60 each for any additional children. In the event both parents are deceased, the child's legal guardian receives $30 a month. If there are two children, the guardian receives $45.60, plus $12 for each additional child. Close supervision is exercised over guardians who receive payments from VA in order to protect the interests of the minors.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. What is the largest amount a veteran can borrow and the loan be guaranteed?

A. The size of the loan depends upon what the lender is willing to lend with the amount of guaranty; there is no limit upon the amount a lender may loan. However, the maximum guaranty by the Veterans Administration may not exceed $4,000 on a home loan or $2,000 on a business loan.

Q. I understand that term insurance which has lapsed can be reinstated before February 1, 1947 by paying two premiums without interest and submitting a statement as to the insured's health. What is necessary to reinstate a lapsed converted policy?

A. A lapsed converted policy may be reinstated at any time by payment of all monthly premiums in arrears, with interest at their several due dates at the rate of 5% per annum, and by submission of insurability satisfactory to the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs.

Q. Are monthly payments on my G.I. loan applied first to the guaranteed portion or to the unguaranteed portion of my loan?

A. The amount of the guaranty decreases pro rata with any decrease in the unpaid balance of the loan. In other words, as periodical payments are received and credited so as to reduce the loan balance a proportionate reduction takes place in the amount guaranteed.

Q. What amount of readjustment allowance is paid to a totally unemployed veteran; to a partially unemployed veteran, and to a self-employed veteran?

A. A totally unemployed veteran is entitled to receive $20 for the week for which he claims benefits. A partially unemployed veteran is entitled to $20 for each week, less the amount of wages in excess of $3 payable for such service. A self-employed veteran who is otherwise eligible, is entitled to receive $100 for a calendar month, less the amount of his net earnings. In making deductions for partial unemployment or self-employment, fractional parts of a dollar in earnings are dropped so that the payment is always in even dollar amounts.

"Eat at your own risk" would seem to be a wise footnote to the tasty (?) dish Suzanne and Judy Dunn are whipping up. Fortunately, "model" mother Phoebe Dunn of Darien, Conn., knows that same note of caution applies to many of today's foods. Soft and creamy, they rob gums of exercise. So she's teaching them her own prized dental routine: Regular brushing with Ipana, then gentle gum massage. This helps keep gums firmer . . . teeth brighter . . . smiles more sparkling. Ask your dentist about massage for your gums. Get started toward a "model" smile yourself . . . with the help of Ipana Tooth Paste.

Suicide Rate Among Officers Twice That of Men, Army Says

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—The suicide rate of World War II officers was twice that of enlisted men, and the number of doctors and nurses who killed themselves was far out of proportion.

Those are among the findings in an Army Institute of Pathology report based on the studies of 1,179 suicides and 656 homicides among army personnel.

Captain Norman Zamcheck now with the Harvard Medical school, and Murray A. Geisler, an Institute statistician, said many of their findings tended to support trends among civilians.

Also army suicides were more frequent in the morning, reaching a peak between 7 and 8 a. m. This was ascribed in part to sleepless nights of worry.

Sunday accounted for the lowest number—141 out of the 1179. "Blue Monday" accounted for 151. Thursdays and Saturdays tied for high with 167.

The report ascribed the higher rate among officers to greater age and responsibilities and said the probable reason for the large number of suicides among doctors and nurses was their familiarity with and access to poisons and lethal drugs.

The maximum age of homicide was between 20 and 30. And the rate among officers was only one-third that of enlisted men.

Sixty percent occurred in course of fights and 42 per cent of the victims were Negroes.

Man Finds 2 Times in Court 1 Too Many

John E. Ramsey, 61, of Chicago found Wednesday that two appearances in municipal court in as many days is inadvisable.

Released Tuesday with a suspended fine on a charge of being a suspicious person, Ramsey was back again yesterday with charges of train riding and disorderly conduct against him and drew a $100 fine and 30 days in the workhouse.

He was arrested by city police Monday night and by Erie railroad police Tuesday in the railroad yards. Police said he created a disturbance while being booked at the station the second time.

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of the wedding Oct. 13 of Miss Jean Wilhelm daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wilhelm of 265 Marion street, to Charles E. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Smith of 334 North Main street. The double ring ceremony was read at 7:30 p. m. by Rev. Henry Kaag, pastor of the Prospect Street Methodist church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street length dress with which she combined accessories. Her only jewelry was a locket, a gift from the bridegroom's mother. She carried a white Bible topped with red roses. Miss Charnell Williams of Marion was the bride's only attendant. She wore a light blue wool dress with plaid accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Serving as best man was Robert Porter.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wilhelm chose a light blue wool dress with black accessories. Mrs. Smith wore a gray wool dress with black accessories. Each wore a gardenia corsage.

A reception for members of the immediate families followed the ceremony. Later the couple left on a short wedding trip. They are now making their home with the bridegroom's parents.

DR. AND MRS. JOHN L. RUSH

A GOLDEN wedding anniversary will be observed Sunday in Marion Club with open house from 2 to 5 p. m. by Dr. and Mrs. John L. Rush of 1014 North State street, Wharton, Mo., Dec. 31. Hostess for the occasion will be Mrs. Edward Wilhelm, sister of Mrs. Rush, and close relatives.

Dr. and Mrs. Rush were married in Marion Club on Oct. 25, 1894 by Rev. John MacCormack, a Baptist minister at the bride's home. They have made their home in Marion more than 50 years. Mrs. Rush, a native of Somersetshire, England, is the daughter of George and Annie Davey and lived in Delaware before coming to the United States. Mr. Rush was born in Marion county and is the son of Elijah and Sarah Rush, natives of Marion county.

A member of Prospect Chapter No. 68 Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Rush also is a member and was the organizer of Marion Service No. 11, White Shrine of Jerusalem. She also is affiliated with the Pythian Sisters and Bohemian Republic Lodge and was past officer in all of the organizations. She is a member of St. Paul Episcopal church where she is active in the women's work. Mr. Rush is a Blue Degree Mason and a member of the Baptist church. He is a philosopher.

Weddings

A double ring ceremony read Thursday, Oct. 17, united in marriage Miss Mildred Ruth Hamm of Maysville, Ky., and Richard Wingett Rinehart son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Rinehart of north of Marion. The couple repeated their vows at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the Maysville Baptist church with only members of the immediate families attending. The pastor, Dr. A. D. Odom, officiated.

For her wedding the bride chose an aqua colored tailored suit of gabardine with which she combined brown accessories. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Otto Tempe of Sheboygan, Wis., the bride's only attendant, wore a black crepe dress with gold trim, and a black hat and accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Serving as best man was George Wingett of Marion.

For the wedding, the bride's mother wore a black crepe dress with black sequin trim and a black hat and white accessories. Her corsage was a gardenia.

Following the ceremony a supper was served in the private dining room at Dreamland in Maysville. Centering the table was a bouquet of gold and white mums surrounded with fall colored leaves and greenery to carry out the bride's scheme of green and gold. A large decorated wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the table. During the reception, Jack Titus played two piano numbers, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" and "Liebestraum."

For the bridegroom's wedding Mrs. Wilhelm wore a light blue wool dress with black accessories. Mrs. Smith wore a gray wool dress with black accessories. Each wore a gardenia corsage.

A reception for members of the immediate families followed the ceremony. Later the couple left on a short wedding trip. They are now making their home with the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Joseph Bowman entertained members of the Current Topic Club during the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hoffman, Jr., Harding road. Mrs. Bowman discussed "Current Events" and "This is Alaska."

QUEEN CHOSEN FOR GALION MARDI GRAS

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 24—The Galion High school student body has elected Miss Beatrice Shockley, senior, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shockley of the South street road, to serve as queen of Galion's Mardi Gras next Thursday night, Oct. 31.

Elaborate plans have been made for the Mardi Gras which is sponsored by the Galion Merchants' association.

The Galion queen will be hostess to the queens from the six consolidated schools in this community festivities next Thursday. The Galion queen will not compete with the queens from other schools for the title of "Queen of the Mardi Gras." Schools to be represented are Crestline, Johnsville, Iberia, North Robinson, Wheelstone and Leesville.

A dinner will be held for the reigning queen and her attendants at Hotel Talbott.

The Mardi Gras which has been held in Galion annually, for many years will have two parades. One for the children is set for 4:30 p. m. while the evening parade at 8 o'clock will be for adults.

Features of the evening affair will be highlighted by a musical Keg race and square dance staged by the Buckeye Rangers horse club. The horses have been shod with rubber shoes for the event, the first time they have had rubber on their feet since the war.

Bands to participate in the evening parade will be from Bucyrus, Leesville, Johnsville, Crestline, Iberia, North Robinson, Galion American Legion, Galion High and Junior High.

REP. SMITH SPEAKS AT CLUB MEETING

Congressman Addresses Kiwanis Club at Mt. Gilead.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Oct. 24—Congressman Frederick C. Smith spoke to Kiwanis club members here yesterday noon on the Wagner-Murray-Dingell federal medical bill, commonly referred to as the "socialized medical bill" and also the recently enacted congressional reorganization act.

"The effort in Washington to socialize medicine is succeeding and the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill is only one of the steps in the general scheme to communize America," declared the congressman, and he added, "it's promoters are the same crowd responsible for the regimentation, bureaucratic control and planned economy that is plaguing the American people today."

Regarding the congressional reorganization bill, Congressman Smith told the Kiwanians it was one of the "most vicious pieces of legislation ever passed by any legislative body."

He said congressmen by voting themselves pensions had stripped congress of its independence in future consideration of such legislative matters.

Packers Catch Up As Livestock Receipts Fall

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 24—The big rush of meat animals to markets during the first week of decontroled prices appeared tapering off today but packers were busy catching up with slaughtering operations.

The volume arriving at markets since early last week was far ahead of what the packers could handle, with embargoes ordered in some stock yards. Industry spokesmen said slaughtering operations in many plants had been curtailed because of the lack of sufficient help.

Packers expressed hope pens would be cleared up this weekend, indicating a steady drop in receipts was expected. However, there was a fairly steady flow of fresh meat to butcher shops, but spokesmen said the supply is not normal, and retail prices in most instances remained far above the abolished ceilings.

4 Accident Victims Removed to Ashley

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, Oct. 24—Four persons hurt in an automobile accident near here Saturday night have been returned to the Brimbee home in Ashley from Jane Case hospital in Delaware. They are Mrs. Ethel Brimbee, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bonner of Pittsburgh, Pa., and another man from Pittsburgh, a friend of the family. They are being cared for by a second daughter of Mrs. Brimbee, Mrs. Imogene Jones of Cleveland. The accident happened when the car in which they were riding skidded in a wet road and turned over enroute between Ashley and Cardington.

Binder, Baler Twines Freed from Price Curb

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—Government price ceilings were removed today from binder and baler twines.

OPA said the action was taken because neither product is considered an important element in business or living costs.

Binder twine is used in harvesting machines on grain crops and corn for fodder and silage. Baler twine is used on hay and other feed crops.

OPA previously had suspended its ceilings on imported twine.

Woman Sues Dealer To Get Promised Car

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 24—A woman who claims she was No. 1 on an auto dealer's list last year, and still doesn't have a new car, has brought suit against the dealer to get one.

Mrs. Mercedes K. Vinoeur of Cleveland is asking common pleas court to compel Jacob J. Larick of Cleveland Heights, owner of a sales agency in Willoughby, to sell her a car, and bar him from selling to anyone else until he does so.

Her petition declares she placed an order two months before Larick was to open his agency last October, and that he promised her the first car he received.

Even after she visited his show room last March and asked for one of two cars on display, she received no car, though she had paid a $100 deposit last December, she claimed.

FILM MARRIAGE ON ROCKS

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 24—Tyrone Power and Annabella, whose seven-year marriage has often been described as one of Hollywood's happiest, have decided to separate, and close friends opined today that the reason probably was their wartime separation. The announcement came from Power's studio (20th Century Fox), confirming rumors heard with increasing frequency in recent months.

CONSTITUTION OKAYED

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Oct. 24—Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy American military governor, approved today a proposed constitution for Wuerttemberg-Baden, subject to reservations preserving occupation authority. Clay informed the German state his approval was subject to international agreements.

The FBI has discovered the feminine broadcaster was a composite person with at least 12 voices. Miss Toguri's father, a Chicago grocer, is endeavoring to clear his daughter's return to the U. S.

FORD TO SHUT DOWN

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Oct. 24—Reporting a "continuing critical shortage of steel," the Ford Motor Co. announced today that virtually all its automobile and truck assembly operations will be halted from tonight until Monday, Oct. 28. This will represent a one-day shutdown and will cut off about 4,000 units of production.

JOBLESS BENEFITS DROP

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24—Ohio recipients of weekly unemployment compensation benefits decreased last month to 83,722 from 96,605 in August, and 57,986, or 69 per cent, of the September roll were veterans receiving readjustment allowance under the G1 bill of rights, Charles H. Jones, administrator of the Ohio bureau of unemployment compensation, reported today.

UN

Great Britain and Australia had submitted trusteeship agreements, which meant that the assembly could establish the trusteeship council at the present session if the agreements are approved. He said Belgium and New Zealand were ready to submit agreements dealing with the former League of Nations mandates under their administration.

Cuba, Australia and the Philippines all have come out for ending the voting system by which any one of the Big-Five powers—America, Russia, France, Britain and China—can block action in the security council.

Without referring specifically to their proposals, Mr. Truman upheld in his assembly address "the rule of unanimous accord" among the Big Five, but said that it imposes on them a "special obligation" to agree on major issues rather than to block agreement.

Senator Connally (D-Tex), a member of the American delegation, told newsmen the United States would continue to favor a "discriminate use" of the veto power but would oppose its use in unconsequential matters. Russia is known to oppose any change in the voting system also and has indicated a desire that it be broadened where possible, rather than curtailed.

U. S. to Support UN

In his speech which urged the international assembly to get on with the business of organizing peace as rapidly as possible, Mr. Truman told the delegates that "the United States will support the United Nations with all the sources that we possess."

He urged that the delegates reject "talk of war" but warned that "to permit the United Nations to be broken into irreconcilable parts by different political philosophies would bring disaster to the world." He did not specifically mention the existing tensions between the United States and Russia.

Some American diplomatic authorities said the chief immediate effect of his address, which made clear that he supports the foreign policy operations of Secretary of State Byrnes, should be to remove any doubts left in the minds of foreign diplomats as a result of the criticisms of Byrnes' policies voiced by former Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace.

Molotov Praises Speech h

The comments of foreign delegates ranged from "very interesting" to Russian Foreign Minister Molotov's statement to Mr. Truman himself that it was a "great speech." Molotov met the President as he left the UN assembly building, on the former New York World Fair grounds.

He shook hands warmly with Mr Truman and members of his party. The two had not met since Molotov passed through Washington in the spring of 1945 on his way to the San Francisco UN conference, shortly after Mr. Truman went into the White House.

From the assembly meeting the President went to the Waldorf-Astoria hotel where for two hours he received delegates. Then he took a special train back to Washington.

American officials said that his address had omitted one piece of information in which there is much interest here: what is the United States going to do about placing under UN trusteeship the Pacific islands captured from Japan?

To Take Leading Part

However, it did reaffirm the American intention to take a leading part in the quest for peace.

"The overwhelming majority of the American people, regardless of party, support the United Nations," Mr. Truman said.

On economic and social problems, about which the President said "a great opportunity lies before us," he called for the earliest possible creation of trade, health, and refugee organizations and for a "concerted effort" to "break down the barriers to a free flow of information among the nations of the world."

In summing up the problems before the present assembly meeting, the President declared that "the difficulty is that it is easier to get people to agree upon peace as an ideal than to agree upon principles of law and justice or to agree to subject their own acts to the collective judgment of mankind."

Various delegates echoed this view.

UN Secretary-General Assails Franco Spain

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, today condemned the Franco regime and called on the general assembly to outline a course of action by which "democratic government may be restored in Spain."

In a supplement to his report to the assembly, Lie declared that the Spanish question had plagued the United Nations "again and again" and expressed the conviction that "as long as the Franco regime remains in Spain, it will remain a constant cause of mistrust and disagreement between the founders of the United Nations."

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

MRS. W. L. LAYMAN DIES IN HOSPITAL

Meeker Resident's Funeral Is Set for Saturday.

Mrs. Imogene Fritch Layman, 63, wife of Walter L. Layman of Meeker, died in Marion City hospital at 2:55 a. m. today. She had been ill six days and suffered from a heart ailment.

Born Jan. 21, 1883 in Prospect, she was a daughter of Samuel and Anne Elizabeth Taylor Fritch, the father a native of Prospect and the mother of Waldo. A resident of Meeker 18 years, she moved there from Marion, where she had taught music several years. She was a member of the Meeker Methodist church and of the W. S. C. S. of the church.

Surviving with her husband, whom she married Oct. 27, 1912 in Covington, Ky., are a daughter, Mrs. Charles Rieser Jr. of Upper Sandusky, and a son by a former marriage, Dana McCrosky of 372 Davids street, and a grandchild.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue by Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran church. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

COLUMBUS TROLLEY STRIKE IN 24TH DAY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24—Columbus' transit strike entered its 24th day today and no promise that buses and streetcars would roll again soon to relieve weary walkers, impatient hitchhikers and motorists whose nerves are ragged from bucking the heaviest traffic in the state capital's history.

The striking CIO Transport Workers Union and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. thus far have not only failed to negotiate differences among themselves, but the company has rejected a citizens' committee proposal to restore service and neither side will agree to arbitration of the issues on terms suitable to the other.

The union's original demand of 30-cent-an-hour wage increases was met with a company offer of 10 cents. The citizens' committee, appointed by the mayor, advocated 14-cent-an-hour boosts and the union accepted the committee's recommendations, but the company rejected them.

A subsequent union proposal that issues in the strike be selected by union and company representatives or by the citizens' committee for arbitration and that workers go back to their jobs at 12-cent-an hour increases pending the outcome brought no company response.

RICHWOOD — The members of the Semper Fidelis class of the Central Methodist church met with Mrs. Charles Shields Monday. Mrs. L. F. Davis assisted Mrs. Shields as hostess. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Lester Smith. Devotionals were led by Mrs. Jesse Roberts. Contest prizes were won by Mrs. L. G. Moyer, Mrs. Bertha Ridgeway and Mrs. Howard Drake. Guests were Mrs. E. B. Brewster and Mrs. Durwood Shoup.

SAYS ROOSEVELT NAZI TARGET. O. John Rogge, above, special assistant to U. S. Attorney General Clark, declared in a speech at Swarthmore college that Herman Goering and other Nazis tried to defeat the late President Roosevelt for re-election in 1936, 1940 and 1944. Rogge charged in an address that the Nazis had considered aiding John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, in an effort to defeat the late president for a third term in 1940.

COAL

"breach of contract" in its interpretation of the Lewis-Krug pact which ended last spring's strike, Blizzard openly predicted that a continuation of the miners' grievances could lead to "more shutdowns" in West Virginia, the nation's No. 1 soft coal producing state.

Both Krug and coal mines administrator N. H. Collisson have vigorously denied any breach of contract and declared Lewis' demand for a reopening of the negotiations was wholly unwarranted. The two federal officials contend that the Krug-Lewis pact covers "the duration" of government operation of the seized mines and that fresh negotiations can be opened only by mutual consent.

TWA and Maritime Strikes Center in Washington Moves

By The Associated Press

Major developments in the strike by 1,400 Trans-World Airline pilots which has made idle an additional 15,000 employes, and the threatened walkout of 400,000 soft coal miners centered in Washington today.

In the wage dispute involving TWA pilots both sides accepted federal mediation offer, while in the soft coal controversy government officials looked to the White House for a possible sign of Presidential intentions toward the demands by John L. Lewis that wage negotiations be reopened on Nov. 1.

In the nationwide shipping strike, negotiations continued between operators and deck officers as CIO Marine Engineers counted votes on ratification of a settlement on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of their work stoppage.

Capt. William C. Ash, co-chairman of the negotiators for the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots said after yesterday's sessions "we are still at an impasse so far as the main issue of employment for masters and masters' earnings are concerned." The union has asked preferential hiring of ship skippers and a 30 per cent wage increase.

The two unions, whose walkout 24 days ago paralyzed nearly all shipping, expect to negotiate with west coast operators after settlement of the Atlantic and gulf strikes.

In other labor disputes:

At Flat River, Mo., production at the St. Joseph Lead Co., one of the world's largest lead mining companies, halted when 3,400 employes left their jobs after demanding arbitration of a dispute over discharge of one worker.

In Louisville, Ky., production at the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp. plant was resumed following settlement of a 26-day old strike by 4,700 employes.

Continuing disputes included the two weeks old strike by some 5,000 service employes at 18 of Washington's leading hotels, a bus tieup in Chicago, a transit walkout in Columbus, O., and the month-long AFL jurisdictional strike at the movie studios in Hollywood.

Ohio State Solon Hits Stopping of Czech Loan

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24—State Sen. William A. Boyd of Cleveland today made public a letter to President Truman criticizing this government's action in calling off negotiations for a loan to Czechoslovakia.

Boyd, Democratic nominee for congressman-at-large, said it was not "true sportsmanship" for the U. S. to change its attitude because Czech diplomats, "who do not necessarily express the sentiments of the masses," have criticized our foreign policy.

"If we refuse a loan to Czechoslovakia because of criticism of our foreign policy," Boyd said, "by the same token we should have refused a loan to England."

State Holds Up Low Bid of Horvitz Firm

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24—The state highway department yesterday ordered held for further consideration the low bid of the Horvitz Co. of Cleveland on the proposed Lakelane freeway through Bratenahl.

The Cleveland concern entered a low bid of $733,279, a total of $42,079 above the project engineering estimate.

The project was one of two ordered held as the department awarded eight other contracts on bids opened yesterday.

Also held was a bid by Hanagan Brothers, Inc., of Urbana, on a project in Lucas and Wood counties. The Hanagan bid was $404,994 on a project for which state engineers estimated cost to be $369,000.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

On Playing the Fiddle Badly

A favorite recreation in our town is getting together in one or another's home and making music. There's somebody at the piano; a guitar; a fiddle player; and Molly Birtles even has a harp!

What comes out isn't the best music in the whole world. In fact, a lot of it is downright bad. But nobody even thinks to question or to criticize.

Because the spirit of harmony is there—harmony between folks who like each other's company, who enjoy the simple, homey atmosphere—with nothing more exciting than old songs, and a glass of moderate beer or cider.

From where I sit, it's a heap more important to be a poor fiddle player, than not to play at all. More important to be a part of the American scene—with its community music, home entertainment, friendly glass of beer—than to hold out for professional perfection. (Besides, I like to play the fiddle—even badly!)

LIQUOR BOARD STUDIES PLANS

Ohio Agency Decides To Take More Time in Weighing Three Proposals.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24—Caught with a tartar in three proposed new regulations based on Pennsylvania procedure, the state liquor board decided today to do some more pondering before taking action—aftermath of an open hearing in Cincinnati Oct. 18.

Mrs. Maude McQuate, board chairman, said a board poll disclosed that each of the members wanted to give further consideration to regulations which would place the state in virtual charge of hiring managers for Ohio's drink spots, would keep a revoked license away from liquor sales for three years and would require posting of permit applications.

Practically all affected interests rose in Cincinnati to oppose the three proposals, including representatives of permit holders, brewers, liquor interests, restaurants, drug store chains, hotels and other chain stores.

The regulation attracting chief opposition was that proposal which would make it mandatory for a liquor holder to obtain the approval of the state board of liquor control in hiring a new manager.

Speakers at the hearing described the measure as "unnecessary" and said it provided no remedy that the board does not already possess.

At the time it was announced, Mrs. McQuate pointed out that in recent months the board has often been confronted by permit holders who disclaimed knowledge of responsibility for alleged violations because it was done by a manager in their absence.

Hearing speakers pointed that permit holders under the law already are legally responsible for the acts of their managers.

Next to be attacked was that proposal which would increase to three years the waiting period for those persons whose licenses had been revoked. Speakers assailed this measure as being too harsh.

Anent the third proposal, under which persons applying for a liquor permit would have to post that fact on cards provided by the state liquor department, opponents pointed out that such posting might mean the card would be displayed for months.

Mrs. McQuate explained to the audience that the proposals came from H. T. Chapman, acting enforcement chief, after a study of Pennsylvania procedure, and were approved by state liquor director Robert M. Sohngen and the board before being drafted.

"EITHER SUCCEED OR THE WORLD GOES BACK TO CHAOS." Thus spoke President Harry S. Truman yesterday on addressing representatives of a billion and a half of the earth's people at the United Nations general assembly opening session in New York City. He is shown above on the speakers' platform. He said that future war is unthinkable if the lofty principles of the United Nations are earnestly supported. In a realistic speech, the Chief Executive of the nation declared "either we succeed or the world goes back to disorder, to chaos and finally to war." (International News Soundphoto)

LaRue P.-T.A. Hears Talk on Education

LA RUE — In an address before approximately 150 persons at the annual banquet of the LaRue P.-T. A. Friday night at the school, Rev. Tennyson Guyer, minister, author and lecturer of Ohio City, stressed the importance of education in our changing world with emphasis on the qualities of latitude, attitude and gratitude.

The program, in charge of Mrs. Harold Snyder, featured special music including selections by the high school band under the direction of Mrs. Esther Schlosser, music instructor, trumpet solo by Jimmy Thompson, piano selections by Betty Lee Hutchison, and vocal numbers by the girl's trio composed of Irma Lou Wall, Joyce Fletcher and Patty Davis all in costume. A humorous reading was presented by Mrs. Gene Dunkin.

Harold Hodson, member of the board of education, explained that the tax levy which will be presented to the voters at the general election Nov. 5, is only a renewal of the three-year operating levy with an increase from 2.85 mills to 3.85 mills to meet increased operating expenses.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Earl James, P.-T. A. president, invocation by Rev. C. A. Hutchinson and benediction by Rev. L. G. Parish.

Committee chairmen were Mrs. Clair Ridgway, Mrs. Benton Denman and Mrs. C. M. Barden.

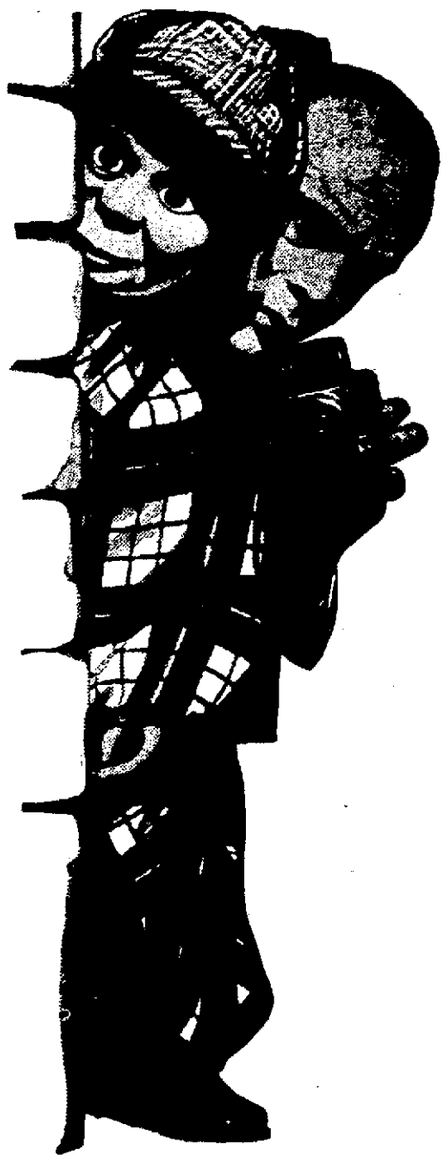
CHARLIE McCARTHY "ACE DETECTIVE"



BERGEN: Well, my little shadow, what's around the corner—prosperity?

CHARLIE: Bergen, old bean, you are privileged to be my aide on the greatest case in my career. I am out to prove that you don't have to go further than around the corner to see how much good the Red Feather services of the Community Fund do.

BERGEN: I thought these were prosperous times.

CHARLIE: Sure—but there are still a lot of kids like this one who look to Red Feather clinics for medical treatment. Their families may be busted up. Or their folks may be sick or handicapped and unable to work. Clinics, hospitals and visiting nurses do a real job for everybody, every day in the year.

SHERD: I ain't sick . . . I'm healthy.

CHARLIE: Look, you R.F.D. Romeo, you don't have to be sick. The Red Feather services of the Chest also take care of kids by supporting the Scouts, the Y's, Community Centers and Foster Homes. They do a lot to keep the kids out of mischief.

SHERD: Is the boy believable, Bergen?

BERGEN: Yes, Charlie's got something this time, Mortimer. But you don't have to be a detective to know that the Chest deserves support. They help kids and old folks. They help veterans, too. The real mystery is why anyone even has to be asked to give.

The Master Sleuth, with Edgar Bergen and Mortimer Snerd, uncovers the clues that clear up the mystery of why a Community Fund is so vital.

Life with Father Coming Here

BRANDON PETERS AND ALICE THOMPSON are cast as Father and his wife, Vinnie, respectively, in the stage production "Life With Father" which will be given at the Palace theater Wednesday, Nov. 6.

The great American comedy classic, "Life With Father," a portrait of family life in the United States in all its humanity and fun, is coming to Marion for an evening performance Wednesday, Nov. 6, on the stage of the Palace theater. Reserved seat tickets for the comedy play now are available at the theater, George E. Planck, manager, announced.

The cast and producers of "Life With Father" have one object in view as they casually present performances throughout the country. This is to break the record set by "Tobacco Road." The current play chalked up its 2900th performance in New York City this month. They now have only 262 more to go, according to Harry Forward, statistician, before the "Tobacco Road" mark is equaled in the middle part of June.

Father and Vinnie, his wife, are played by Brandon Peters and Alice Thomson, respectively. They carry on their struggle to have their own way, each over the other, in the civilized way of the well-bred family in the 1880's. Father always wants to have things done his way, which is the way of logic and reason. However, Mother, or Vinnie, always falls back on instinct. When an argument pursues, as Father gets madder, Vinnie grows quieter and firmer.

Other members of the Day family are the eldest son, Clarence Jr. who loses his heart to a pretty visitor, Mary Skinner, the next oldest boy, John, who needs money his Father does not think he should have, and little Harlan, the youngest Day child, who always has to struggle to finish his breakfast cereal.

Thus the trials of the Day family are told in "Life With Father."

The Palace theater management is attempting to make legitimate theater productions a regular addition to the other local entertainment schedules.

TO AWARD SERVICE PINS HERE TONIGHT

Sohio Pipeline Workers To Be Honored at Hotel Harding.

Tonight twelve employees of the Eastern Division, Sohio Pipe Line Co. subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company (Ohio), will be honor guests at a service pin dinner to be given at the Hotel Harding.

Frank A. Smith, superintendent, Eastern Division, will preside and among the speakers will be Carl H. Metz, Jr., director of industrial relations.

The occasion of the dinner will be the awarding of service pins. Thirty-year pins will go to Chalmer L. Deeter of Greenville; F. T. Hensley of Clinton, and Murray C. Liming, of Bellefontaine. Twenty-five year pins, which also carry membership into Sohio's Quarter Century club, will go to Martin W. Carlson, of Bellefontaine, and Fred J. Furze, of Covington; and fifteen-year pins to L. B. Dalton and H. E. Lemm, both of Clinton.

Five employees will receive 5-year pins. They are: A. T. Creamer of Caledonia, L. J. Dailey, of Covington; H. C. Hart, of near Marion, G. H. Lewis, of Edison, and R. M. Snader of Ashland.

Standard Oil is awarding 80 service pins during October, representing a total of 975 years with the company.

Booth Festival Social Scheduled at LaRue

LARUE—A booth festival benefit social will be held by the LaRue Methodist Youth Fellowship Saturday from 5 to 10 at the American Legion hall. Proceeds will go into the fund for booth festival which will be held at the Wesley church in Marion on Nov. 29.

Contributions to the booth festival by the Youth Fellowships of the Lima district will go to the support of Methodist hospital and children's home.

Election Board Maps Final Plans for Nov. 5 Voting

With election day less than two weeks away, final arrangements for the Nov. 5 event were being made at the Marion county board of elections today.

Deputy clerks at the election board office began today to tally the official registration, expected to be over 17,000. Unofficial total, released by the board following the registration deadline, was 17,454.

Absentee ballots cast so far total 124, election board officials said. The total includes 116 civilian ballots and eight service men's ballots. Deadline for civilians to cast absentee ballots at the election board office is Oct. 31 at 6:30 p. m. Persons who expect to be more than 50 miles from their precinct on election day are eligible to vote by absentee ballot.

Voting for disabled persons began Monday, with six applications for ballots having been received. Deadline for disabled voters also is Oct. 31.

Presiding judges from the county area will pick up their election supplies at the election board office on Nov. 2 and presiding judges from the city will receive theirs on Nov. 4, election officials said.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Heartburn Relief

Heartburn is a very common condition during pregnancy. When it persists it tends to lower efficiency and interfere with a woman's morale. When it is severe and occurs at night it interferes with sleep and thus is a threat to health.

According to Dr. Harold M. Wiley of Cincinnati, during pregnancy the enlarging uterus or womb forces the stomach out of its normal position. This interferes with the emptying of the stomach. There is also a gradual lessening of the strength of the stomach muscles. The upper end of the stomach and the lower end of the esophagus which leads from the mouth to the stomach are affected by this process. Thus stomach contents can easily gain access to the lower part of the esophagus and produce the burning sensation which is known as heartburn. This also may account for the fact that the heartburn tends to occur most often at night or when the patient is lying down.

Another factor responsible for the heartburn may be the lessened movements of the stomach during pregnancy. Normally, the stomach empties itself in about two hours. During pregnancy this time may be doubled.

Because of these many facts, Dr. Wiley attempted treatment of the heartburn with a preparation known as neostigmine. This preparation has been shown to have a definite action in stimulating the contraction of the muscles of the intestine.

Twenty women who complained of heartburn were given a supply of the tablets and instructed to take one as soon as symptoms began to appear. Complete relief occurred in 15 patients within 15 minutes after taking one tablet. If the symptoms recurred as they often did during the day another tablets brought similar relief. Two of the patients reported partial relief. In the other three no benefits were obtained. In some of the patients who were often awakened at night with heartburn, taking a tablets before retiring helped to assure an unbroken night's sleep.

Inasmuch as the amount of the drug administered is small there is little, if any likelihood of any reaction as a result of its use. Furthermore, this drug in the dose used will not produce an interruption of pregnancy. The treatment is a simple one and is easy to carry out. It would appear that it is well worth trying by those women who suffer from heartburn during pregnancy.

THEY'RE OFF TO SCHOOL

Marion has underpaid its teachers for years. It's a miracle how we have kept such an efficient and loyal staff. This can't last. Rising prices have made it impossible for them to live decently on their present pay. We have two choices. Pay them a fair living wage or lose them. Other cities are paying up to 48% more than Marion.

We voters alone can determine whether our schools are good, bad or indifferent. They can be only as good as we vote funds to provide for them. Textbooks, supplies, fuel, maintenance costs of all sorts have risen in price. Our teachers are grossly underpaid. We need this 2 mill levy now if we expect to retain our present high standard of education. 72 Ohio cities will vote on school levies this fall. Do we think less of our youngsters than other cities do? Certainly not.

It's our obligation to vote "FOR" this levy and see that our friends do likewise

UN Assembly Seen As Future World "Parliament of Man"

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—The United Nations general assembly is what diplomats believe will become the "parliament of man" and the supreme operating world government.

Right now it is a sounding board of world opinion. It is the only place where every nation—big or small—has an equal voice. There are 51 members in the present assembly. Each member is entitled to five representatives. Each member has one vote.

The big veto power can not be used here. Decisions on important questions require a two-thirds majority vote. On procedural matters only a simple majority is required.

The assembly can discuss anything that is within the scope of the United Nations charter.

Can Discuss Any Issue

That means that the general assembly can discuss any question relating to the maintenance of international peace and security. It can, however, only make recommendations on these questions. It has the power to take action. That power has been left to the eleven-nation security council, where veto can be applied.

Further, the general assembly can call the attention of the security council to situations which are likely to endanger international peace and security.

However, if the security council is exercising in respect of any dispute or situation the functions assigned to it in the charter, the general assembly cannot make any recommendation with regard to that dispute or situation unless the security council so requests.

On the other hand, the general assembly can suspend a member against whom force has been used, but only on recommendation of the security council. Also it needs a recommendation from the security council to expel a member for persistently violating the principles of the United Nations charter.

Membership Limitations

The general assembly cannot take up applications for membership that have been rejected by the security council. For example, the assembly is powerless to consider the applications of Albania, Outer Mongolia, Trans-Jordan, Ireland and Portugal, which were rejected by the security council in a recent session.

While the assembly is powerless to act on questions that are directly the concern of the security council, it is not devoid of power.

It elects the six non-permanent members of the security council and the trusteeship council. It elects the members of the economic and social council. It draws up the budget for the entire United Nations and collects fees from its members.

The assembly also is empowered to initiate studies and make recommendations for the purpose of promoting international cooperation in the political, economic, social, cultural, educational and health fields.

Protests "Human Rights"

It is authorized to assist in the realization of human rights and fundamental freedoms for all without distinction as to race, sex, language or religion.

The assembly also passes on trusteeship agreements and is empowered to maintain a check on their administration of non-self-governing territories.

Among the 53 items on the agenda of the assembly are the following questions:

What nations shall succeed Egypt, Mexico and the Netherlands in 1947 as non-permanent members of the security council?

What countries shall succeed Colombia, the United States, Greece, Lebanon, the Soviet Ukraine and Yugoslavia on the economic and social council?

2 Controversial Items

And these are items proposed by member nations, many of which will doubtless cause great argument:

1. Australia, Cuba and the Philippines want a thorough discussion of the veto power as it exists and has been used almost solely by Russia in the security council. The Cuban proposal specifically suggests abolition of the veto.

2. India has submitted a complaint over the treatment of Indian nationals in the Union of South Africa. The complaint contends that South Africa is trying to limit the areas in which Indians may live and own property.

In the economic and social field, the assembly's biggest task will be to establish an international organization for refugee care to succeed UNRRA.

South Africa has requested assembly permission to annex Southwest Africa, a former German colony over which it has held a mandate since just after World War I.

Russia has requested a worldwide inventory of foreign troops and air and naval bases maintained in countries which were not enemy nations in the recent war.

LIPPMANN

Nations retain the right of "collective self-defense" if one of them is attacked, and this right continues "until" the security council acts.

If the security council does not act because of the veto, the collective action may, nevertheless, continue. For the charter itself says that the right of collective self-defense is "inherent." No veto can abrogate an inherent right expressly confirmed in the charter itself.

The conclusion, it seems to me, is that on this point the charter does not need to be amended. It will be sufficient to construe it.

UNION CO. FARM BUREAU TO HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION

Vote and Business Meeting Scheduled for Oct. 29.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Oct. 24—The annual business meeting and election of the Union County Farm Bureau will be held in the Farm Bureau hall here on Tuesday, Oct. 29 at 8:15 p. m., it was announced today.

C. F. Riehl, vice president, will preside at the session and Mrs. Matt Pacha is to serve as secretary. Miss Joan Gamble has been named to lead group singing, with Miss Miriam Boule, pianist. The principal address will be "Looking to the Farmer's Future," by D. B. Robinson, county agriculture agent. Rev. George C. Reed of Springdale will conduct devotions.

In addition to electing a delegate and an alternate to the state Farm Bureau election, four directors of the county board are to be selected. Three of the four present directors are not eligible for reelection because of constitutional provisions against reelection at the end of a three-year term. Those ending three years on the board are Mrs. Charles D. Green, Elmer Rausch and Shade Watkins.

Social Security Payments Total $28,510 in Area

Benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program totaling $28,510.68 a month are now in force for 1,832 persons in the Marion field office service area, Gerhard L. Schlueter, manager of the Marion office of the social security administration reported today.

These figures compare with $27,159.18 monthly benefits in force for 1,858 men, women and children three months ago.

The monthly benefits in the Marion field office service area are distributed as follows: 978 retired workers, age 65 or over, receiving $15,128.12 a month; 255 retired workers' wives, age 65 or over, receiving $2,971.58 a month; 159 young widows with children under 18 receiving $2,066.54 a month; 421 children of retired or deceased workers, receiving $5,227.10 a month; 165 widows, 65 or over of insured workers, receiving $2,061.35 a month and 4 aged dependent parents of deceased workers, receiving $52.11 a month.

In addition, a total of $4,115.17 in lump sums have been paid in the last three months on the wage records of insured workers who died leaving no one immediately eligible for monthly benefit payments.

Mr. Schlueter is manager of the office that serves the area including Marion, Delaware, Union, and Wyandot counties.

FERTILIZER PLANTS SET FOR PRODUCTION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—Converted munitions plants will start actual production next week of fertilizer-grade ammonium nitrate to increase the food output of American - occupied Germany, Japan and other areas, the war department announced yesterday.

Maj. Gen. Everett S. Hughes, chief of ordnance, said three of 16 plants will start turning out anhydrous ammonia, the basic raw material, in a few days.

By late summer it is expected 684,000 tons of fertilizer will be produced at an estimated cost of $40,000,000. The move is expected to make more fertilizer available for American farmers.

Plants to start work quickly include the Ohio River Ordnance works, West Henderson, Ky. The Morgantown, W. Va. ordnance works will start early in November.

These plants are expected to reach full capacity of 40,000 short tons monthly in February or March. They will ship their output in tank cars to Indiana Arsenal, Charlestown, Ind.; Joliet Arsenal, Joliet, Ill.; Radford, Va. Arsenal; Sunflower Ordnance Works, Lawrence Kas.; Holston Ordnance Works, Kingsport, Tenn. and Wabash River Ordnance Works, Newport, Ind., for processing.

Plants to engage in graining, conditioning and bagging include Ravenna Arsenal, Apco, Ohio.

The Ravenna works will start in December.

POLITICAL GUNS KEEP FIRING

Ohio Politicians Using Old Ammunition Stocks, However.

By The Associated Press

Although the political guns kept firing on the Ohio campaign line Wednesday night, most of the rounds were drawn from ammunition stocks used previously.

In Youngstown John W. Bricker, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, predicted Democrats "'by the thousands will be joining Republicans at the polls in an effort to clean house in Washington."

Bricker quoted Louis Bromfield, novelist and Richland county farm operator, that "the best thing that could happen to the nation and the Democrat party itself would be for the people to retire it for repairs, new leadership, a program and a new standard of morals."

From there Bricker went into one of his favorite campaign contentions—that the New Deal has sired a bureaucracy "so big, so complex, so contradictory and so expensive that it has become a dangerous monstrosity."

Bricker's opponent, incumbent Democratic Senator James W. Huffman, spoke at Newark and repeated his assertion that "The Republican campaign has degenerated into a money raising and spending spree."

"New Gold Dust Twins"

Referring to Bricker and Thomas J. Herbert, Republican nominee for governor, Huffman declared: "Tom and John have become the new gold dust twins."

"Our opponents," he added, "are spending dollars more freely than Governor Lausche and I can afford to spend pennies."

"Those who contribute these huge slush funds for influencing the election of Republicans are doing so for the express purpose of purchasing special privileges and they will see to it that it is delivered," Huffman said.

In Cleveland, Governor Lausche said under his administration "local governments were given a 52 per cent increase" or "$37,000,000 as against $24,000,000 in the preceding two years.

"Free Local Governments"

"The way to achieve tax reduction," Lausche said, "is to free local governments from tax levies and bond issues to permit them to ease the burden on the small home owner. Local governments have been faced with such obligations that they have been forced to consider occupational taxes and other special means of increasing revenue."

Lausche said he believed state revenue would be sufficient to increase state allocations to local governments from around $18,000,000 annually to $28,000,000 or $30,000,000.

Thomas J. Herbert, Lausche's opponent, speaking at a Youngstown Republican rally, declared "over one hundred thousand federal employes in Ohio have been instructed to go all out for the re-election of my opponent (Governor Lausche)."

Herbert reiterated his claim that Lausche was a "New Deal governor" who "became a candidate with the blessing of the New Deal President and the New Deal national chairman, x x x accepted a campaign contribution from Marshall Field, an ardent New Deal spokesman, x x x and urged continuance of the OPA."

Pledges Mine Action

Herbert pledged he would provide action "instead of glittering promises" on the strip mining problem and declared that "reclamation and conservation of strip-mined properties are absolutely essential."

State Highway Director Perry T. Ford, speaking at Ottawa, saw the G.O.P. platform plank on highway administration as "an indorsement of the things we are trying to do," and described as "brazenly untrue" statements made by Republican Gubernatorial Candidate Thomas J. Herbert.

Herbert, said Ford, asserted that the highway department was operating with 2,500 to 2,700 more personnel, when on Aug. 15 there were 7,865 compared to 10,539 on Aug. 15, 1940 under Gov. John W. Bricker. And since August, notwithstanding the approaching election, personnel has been cut another 369 employes, Ford said.

WAR HEROINE SEEKS TO AID SON. A member of the war-time Dutch underground and one who is credited with helping American pilots escape the Nazis, Madame Marie Lausberg of Maastricht, Holland, has come to Baltimore, Md., to seek medical aid for her eight-year-old son. The boy, shown with her is suffering from an eye ailment which threatens to blind him.

Ohio GOP Eyes 80th Congress

Members See Rich Plums if Party Captures House Majority.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—Ohio Republicans are eyeing the G.O.P. leadership of both house and the senate in the 80th congress.

The places would be particularly tasty political plums if the party gains numerical control in next month's elections. This would boost house Republican leader Joe Martin of Massachusetts to the speakership now held by Sam Rayburn, Texas Democrat.

At least two Buckeye members—Reps. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton and Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester—would be high on the list of prospective successors to Martin.

And Senator Robert A. Taft, a possibility for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948, might be chosen for the party leadership in the senate, although there probably would be a close contest for the honor, now held by Senator Wallace H. White of Maine.

In the matter of seniority, Jenkins would have an advantage over Brown if the two were the only candidates for Martin's place.

Jenkins has more continuous service than most members of the house. He came to Washington 22 years ago and has gained prominence as a member of the ways and means committee and as chairman of the Republican food study committee.

While Brown hasn't been in congress as long, he has won recognition as director of the congressional campaign for the Republican national committee. He is rounding out his eighth year in the house and is a member of the influential rules committee.

Likewise mentioned in pre-election discussions is Rep.-at-Large George H. Bender, Republican chairman of Cuyahoga county (Cleveland). He also came to congress eight years ago and has drawn attention by his vote-getting ability in statewide elections. He ran well ahead of Senator Taft and others in the last election.

Bender's opponent this year is William M. Boyd, Cleveland Democrat, a state senator since 1936.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Want To Get Married? Here Is Counsel from An Expert

By DR. CLIFFORD R. ADAMS

Author of the book "How To Pick A Mate and Happy Marriage." Director of Research, Pennsylvania State College.

Officially my work at Penn State is concerned with counseling couples who want to marry or are married. Unofficially however I receive many calls from troubled girls and men who urge me to tell them how they can win some interesting interest from some person who has thus far shown only moderate interest.

I stress to these people that mate compatibility must exist if any success is to followed and that there are no magic tricks for getting a mate. With these qualifications I pass on to them some of the counting tactics that I have noticed, in my years of counseling, are often effective in bringing two people who really should be with each other together.

What Wise Girl Does

First here are a few things that a wise girl does not forget to do:

—She talks about the male's basic needs in a subtle impersonal way by discussing such things as good food, comfortable furniture, fireplaces, a place where one can bring friends. She gets a feeling for the style of home he likes and on the style of home he likes and takes a good deal about the mate considered. Her married friends care. War veterans are particularly responsive to such an approach because of their suffering. Ca-romantic life as figuring men like ladies when a profound change to settle down to a meaningful creative life.

(Last of series of articles on marriage problems.)

—She appeals to the male's desire for mastery (which every man has an abundance, by giving him a chance to do most of the talking, by talking on whatever moves he is in and showing real ideas about places to go on dates.

—She makes it clear she is fond of and popular with other girls and is successful at her work.

—She does not discuss any personal details she may have but does she mention the old French line of her knack for getting along smaller.

—Finally she is not afraid to let him know that she likes him and that real feelings toward her matter a great deal.

Most wise girls constantly seek opportunities to [illegible] where the man feel good in the [illegible] with her and make him [illegible] That is the most [illegible] proposals [illegible]

And What Wise Men Does

Here on the other hand are some of the things the male is to get the [illegible] a young woman for [illegible]

—He will display the [illegible] of her feelings of [illegible] girls for [illegible] something) and remains [illegible] an intellectual companion [illegible] for [illegible] of maturity. Perhaps it [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

An Open Letter To All Democrats!

Fifteen years ago there was a great Democratic party in America—your party! The party of Jefferson, Jackson, and Wilson.

Fifteen years ago there was no threat of Communism taking over America.

Sure there was rivalry, constructive rivalry, between two great parties—but whatever the result—A FREE AMERICA—which we've paid for dearly—was never in doubt.

Today the New Deal has finished taking over your party. It still hopes for your support but it has sold the principles for which you stood "down the river."

That's hard to believe until you read on and remember. It's a page out of the Kremlin's book.

This, citizens, isn't a partisan plea. It's much, much more serious. It's a plea to you who put our country ahead of politics. It's a plea for America—which can keep on being the greatest country on earth.

Check These With the Democratic Party You Used to Know:

1. The Supreme Court "packed" with poorly experienced judges.
2. An unworkable "Planned Economy," Russian style.
3. A 59c dollar which caused today's high prices.
4. Little pigs slaughtered and crops plowed under.
5. Payments of taxpayer's money for not producing.
6. The theory that scarcity makes prosperity.
7. That "we owe it to ourselves." Look at your tax bill.
8. An unbalanced budget for 10 years and a $275,000,000,000.00 national debt for you and your grandchildren to pay.
9. Billions in cancelled "lend lease," with hardly a scrap of paper to keep track of it.
10. 2300 avowed Communists placed in key government positions, to make Communism sound like Utopia.
11. A shortage in every needed commodity in a land of plenty almost two years after the war's end.
12. Rationing, regimentation, invasion of human rights, meddling and black markets.
13. Billions spent for boondoggling, waste, confusion and bungling.
14. The American Constitution violated and ignored. States rights forgotten.
15. Until World War II greater unemployment than during the depression — after spending 80 billions of your dollars raking leaves instead of building worth while public improvements.
16. Placing our farmers at the mercy of incompetent government "experts."
17. A terribly raw deal for our returning veterans. Promise much, give nothing—not even a place to live.
18. A labor-management muddle which will wreck America if not dealt with honestly.
19. The highest taxes and greatest waste in America's history. Almost 33c out of every dollar you earn going for taxes direct and indirect.
20. Our American boys, workers and industry won a glorious victory — our New Deal politicians have practically lost the peace — and have increased the hazard of another war more terrible than the last.
21. Permitted our unarmed citizens in unarmed planes to be shot down in Russian Yugoslavia. The same country which is still holding as slaves 165 American citizens in concentration camps. 10 of these have been worked and starved to death. Our only protests were diplomatic notes.
22. Sent and is still sending for FREE millions of dollars worth of steel, machinery, food, clothing and supplies to the same Russian dominated Yugoslavia. How low has America sunk?
24. Acknowledged a request direct from Communist Russia that the New Deal be reelected.
25. Is unable to send $2,700,000,000 in terminal leave pay, long past due, to our veterans because of a SHORTAGE of envelopes.
26. Welcomes the support and votes of allegedly corrupt city bosses such as those in Chicago, Memphis, Newark, N. J., Kansas City, Boston, New York, etc., etc., in return for political plums.
26. Gave up the control of meat only after its master minds said the election was hopelessly lost without it. Of course it can still be put back if a Democratic House is returned.
27. Has been insulted by Russian dominated nations who say America is trying to enslave the world with American dollars — few of which ever were or will be paid back. Your money.
28. Is pushed around in all peace meetings because we haven't our own peace plan and don't see eye to eye with the Russian Communists.
29. Hasn't "enabled us to enjoy the freedom which we fought so hard to preserve." Gen. Mark Clark.

These Are Just a Few! No, Democrats, This Surely Isn't the Good Old Fashioned Party You Used To Know!

Yes, Democrats! The New Deal Must Have Something Which Is Good. But—You Can't Be Sure of America's Future With These Things Going On. Let's Keep America Safe and Free for Another Election. This Time Let's—

VOTE A STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN TICKET, NOVEMBER 5th

Quaker Oats Co. Issues Annual Financial Report

Annual statement of income and expenditures of the Quaker Oats Co. is featured in the bi-monthly company magazine, "The Quaker," distributed recently to employes at the new Ken-L Products division plant here. It is the first statement issued since the Marion plant was opened.

The statement reveals that of approximately two and one quarter million dollars reinvested in the company last year, more than a million dollars went toward purchase and renovation of facilities in Marion and in Mississippi.

The statement follows received from sale of Quaker Products, $154,231,183; spent for materials and operating costs, $125,214 570, payrolls, $15,764,166, taxes, $7,381,375, dividends to stockholders (which number about 9,000), $4,222 637, reinvested in the company, $2,248,415.

Sales Increase

Sales have shown an increase from 90 million dollars in 1942 to the present level, payrolls have increased from 8 million in 1942, operating costs from 70 million, dividends from approximately three and a quarter million dollars.

Included in the current issue of "The Quaker" are photographs and sketches of LaVerne Kreuter, superintendent of the Marion plant, and Warren S Smith, manager of the Ken-L-Products division with headquarters at Rockford, Ill., who make frequent trips here.

Mr Kreuter joined the company in 1943 when Chappell Brother, Inc of Rockford, Ill., with whom he was then associated, was purchased by Quaker Oats He was made manager of the mechanical department in 1944 and the meat processing department in 1945 He came here from Rockford

Started In 1911

Mr Smith started with Quaker Oats as a supply foreman in 1911 at Fort Dodge, Iowa In 1919 he was transferred to Cedar Rapids as flour packaging foreman and later became department manager of bulk packaging and shipping Transferred to Quaker s ordnance plant in 1942, he became assistant general superintendent and then general superintendent

The company's employe retirement plan is also described in the magazine It was established in 1938, at which time annuities amounted to $15,266. Employes' annuities now total $448,015 Since the plan's establishment, retired employes have been paid approximately $1,800,000 Three thousand employes now participate in the plan, 347 retired employes are receiving benefits.

Men employes may become members of the plan at 30 and women at 25. During the last year employe's contributed more than one million dollars to the plan and the company added more than two million The company paid the employes' share for those in military service

City Ice and Fuel Co. 1946 Earnings Higher

CHICAGO, Oct 24—William J. Sinek president, discloses a sharp rise in the earnings of the City Ice and Fuel company for the first nine months of 1946. Net profit for this period is $4,533 000, or $3 59 per share. This compares with a net profit of $2,365,000 or $2 06 per share for the same period in 1945

Sinek attributes a portion of the increased profit to the company's accelerated program of diversification.

City ice has a 52-year unbroken divided record and at present the dividend rate is 40 cents per share, quarterly.

Indications are that the net earnings for 1946 will be in excess of $4 per share, as compared with $2 41 per share in 1945

The company operates in 25 states, Canada and Mexico.

The giant tree frog grows to a length of three to five inches, compared with two inches for other tree frogs

Two Former Galion Residents Married

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 24—Word has been received here of the marriage of two former Galion residents, Eleanor Morgan Townsend and Raymond Seitz. The ceremony was performed in Columbus, Oct. 19, but no other details have been received here.

The couple will establish their home in Philadelphia, Pa., where Mr. Seitz is general manager of the Eastern Body company.

The bride resigned her position, recently, at the F and R Lazarus store in Columbus. She is the daughter of R. O. Morgan of Galion.

Mr. Seitz is the son of Mrs. Clara Muth, also of Galion.

Woman's Relief Corps Inspected at Galion

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 24—Annual inspection of the Woman's Relief Corps took place, Tuesday afternoon, at the Galion armory. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mdm. Carl Coover, and the inspecting officer was Mrs. Marie Lynch of Columbus, past department president. During the service, several candidates were initiated and applications were received for several other new members.

Relief work for the past two weeks was estimated at $102. The group also planned a rummage sale to be held in the near future.

IBERIA TO VOTE ON SCHOOL SHOP BUILDING PROPOSAL

$25,000 Issue To Be Presented to District Electors.

Special to The Star

IBERIA — The Washington-Bloomfield board of education has adopted a resolution which submits to the voters of the local school district the question of issuing bonds for constructing a new farm shop building, providing its necessary equipment and making repairs on the present school building in the sum of $25,000. The levy of taxes outside the 10 mill limitation has been estimated by the county auditor to average 1.3 mills for each for a minimum period of 10 years.

The new building program will provide an extra room for a fifth grade teacher to relieve Mrs. McGrath and Mrs Derfler, who each have 48 pupils to tutor. In addition it will provide a classroom for Miss Sheley s music department

Supt. Earl E Bowman reports that in the last 10 years the enrollment in the lower six grades has increased by 130

The bond issue will provide more efficient facilities for teaching agriculture by providing a modern farm shop a tool room, a testing room and a classroom.

For frankfurters used in the United States 490,000 miles of casing are needed yearly.

St. Mary Irish To Meet Lima St. Rose at Stadium Tomorrow Night

Once-Beaten Aggregation To Challenge Local Grid Battlers

St. Mary gridders will take over at the Harding stadium Friday night to play host to once defeated Lima St. Rose. At 8.15 p. m. the referee's whistle will signal for the opening kickoff.

The record of the Lima parochials include wins over Delphos, Lafayette, Shawnee, Pandora and Lima St. Wendelin. Their loss was to Fremont St. Joseph, 19 to 6

The team is hampered by the loss of their two regular ends, Williams and Sites Williams because of appendecitis and Sites because of a broken leg suffered in the St. Wendelin contest.

Lineup Shuffled

This loss to the team has resulted in the Lima coaches Fred George and George Keller shuffling their lineup considerably. Their center, Mulcahy, will be playing quarterback against the Marion Irish. O'Conner the regular right half is being moved to right end and Delvin, the quarterback, will take O'Connor's place, formerly a substitute, will play center and Ross will start at left end

The team is much lighter than the squad which played Marion last year. Its line average is about 166 and its backs average 164. The backfield is reported to be the strongest department of the squad with four lettermen playing There are only two letteremen on the forward wall

Coach Fetter, too, is planning some shake-ups in his starters Dick Schuler, who has been proving himself at right half, will be switched to quarterback and John Baldauf may be back in the line up at fullback. Dick Drake may start at one of the end positions.

Irish Met Hard Luck

The Irish have been slashed with hard luck since they downed Columbus Rosary and now have three straight losses against two wins and a tie St Rose is probably the toughest the Irish have scheduled since Tiffin Calvert.

Their backs Stuber and Schuler have made long gains against all the teams they have played this season and it is not unlikely that they will get loose against Lima. Wether they will be able to outscore the experienced Lima backs remains to be seen At Richwood St Mary looked like the better team, Stuber and Schuler consistantly reeling off sizeable gains from midfield but were unable to score more than the fighting Orange and Black Tomorrow night the local Green Clads will be looking for their third victory of the season and they will have to beat a consistant winner to accomplish it.

Prexie Band Plans Half-Time Program

Entertainment for the half-time of the game tonight will once more be presented by the snappy maneuvering Harding band.

The program tonight, besides being planned to bolster the school's morale, is also designed to boost the Community Foundation. After the salute to the visitors and playing of the school song, the band will spell out the word "give" and members of organizations involved in the drive will go onto the field bearing placards which spell out "Community Fund." A short talk on the progress of the drive will be given by Don Sherwood.

Then an H and an A, representing the two schools will be formed, the two letters clashing, the A finally leaving the field in a deflated condition as the band plays a funeral dirge. The school fight song and the Alma Mater will be played after which the band will take its place on the west side lines.

Rained-Out Motorcycle Races Reset for Sunday

A complete new run of events will feature the Tourist Motorcycle Trophy races to be held on the race track one mile north of Waldo Sunday afternoon. This is to be the same races which were rained out last Sept. 29 after only two heats had been run. Tickets bought for the races then will be honored this Sunday.

Heading the card of riders will be Sonny Copeland of Marion, Art Heck of Willard, and Harry Bellville of Marysville. Other drivers whose names have long been in the cycle riding spotlight are also entered.

The races are sponsored by the Triangle Motorcycle club of Marion and the admission at the gate will be $1. Time trials start at 12 and the races will get underway at 2 p. m. Persons who witnessed the heats which were run Sept. 29 will know that this is going to be a real exhibition of riding and racing skill

OSU SHIFTS BACKS IN SEARCH FOR PUNCH

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Oct 24 — Coach Paul Bixler is juggling his Ohio State backfield this week in an attempt to put punch in the Bucks' passing attack before Saturday's game here with the Minnesota Gophers

In trying to bring his team's aerial game up to par with a ground offense that has been rolling up big yardages, Bixler has concentrated on the quarterback spot

On Tuesday left half Tommy Phillips, whose passing earned him the appellation, "The Berea Blizzard," was moved to second string quarterback. Then yesterday, George Spencer—rated next to Phillips among the Buck tossers—was put to work with the first team backfield as signal caller

Spencer holds an edge among the quarterbacks in defensive play, and injury to right half Mike Cannavino in practice Tuesday will weaken the Bucks defensively unless Mike is back in play by Saturday. With this in mind, Bixler was undecided whether or not to start Spencer in place of Bill Doolittle, who was in on the kickoff against Purdue Regular first string quarterback Dick Palmer is sidelined with an ankle injury

Spencer, a freshman who played with the Navy's Great Lakes team in 1944, was off to a bad start this season and two weeks ago was calling signals for the junior varsity against Miami. In that game he showed up so well, however, that he was returned to the varsity and last week was restored to his old job on the second team.

With Dick Palmer injured, Phillips new to quarterbacking, and third-stringer Dick Slager handicapped by a sore shoulder, both Spencer and Doolittle were certain to see plenty of action Saturday regardless of which one starts.

No other changes were in prospect for the starting lineup against the Gophers, but in the Buck second string Howard Duncan of Lakewood has been sidelined with bruises and Howard Teifke of Fremont is working in the center position.

The Minnesota squad is slated to go directly from the practice field to the train today and arrive in Dayton, O, at 10 11 a m. tomorrow. The traveling varsity includes eight newcomers, Coach Bernie Bierman disclosed.

Harris Denies He's Next Yankee Pilot

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—Stanley (Bucky) Harris, five times a major league manager, denies that he has accepted the job as 1947 pilot of the New York Yankees.

Further, he says, "I have no plans to accept it either. I am perfectly satisfied with my present job as an administrative assistant to Mr. MacPhail and have no intention of becoming field manager"

Harris was commenting on a published report that he had been selected Yankee manager Tuesday.

Cabbies Regroup for Battle With Rockets Here Saturday

Regrouping their forces after the Fort Wayne incident, Marion's professional footballers will tackle the Dayton Rockets at the stadium Saturday night at 8 30.

A near-cyclone hit the boys last Sunday, Marionites being stunned when the final score of 31 to 0 was reported It seemed impossible that a team which had done so well against its other opponents should suddenly have such a lop-sided score run up against them. The team actually suffered a natural let down after winning a tough one from Galion the previous Wednesday. Also the St. Joe A. C.'s proved to be a lot more than the Cabbies had bargained for.

Saturday they have another opponent capable of making things tough for them. The Rockets are not expected to be as strong as the Dayton Bombers, however it is going to take some topnotch playing by the locals to gain a win.

The Rockets have a fairly good record this season. Among other games they dropped one 12 to 0 to the Galion Vet Cubs. Marion proved to the Galion club that given a rest they were enough for them although the Galion team is still not satisfield with the results. They have suggested a return match winner take all on a neutral field. However it is very unlikely that the Cabbies will accept this proposition.

Having won from Galion It seems that Marion has a good chance of bounding back after their loss Sunday and giving the Dayton team a real scrap.

Lester Russel is suffering from an arm injury and may not see too much action in the fracas. Ned Samples, who replaced him at Fort Wayne, performed very well and is a capable reserve. Fred Ruhl who got 'conked on the noggin" at Fort Wayne has recovered and will be back in the lineup to handle the punting. Bob Slatzer listed at fullback along with Leroy Harvey and Johnny Williams may see more action on defense and has steadily improved as a place kicker. He will be counted on for extra points.

The team plans to use a five man line against the Rockets and has been working on its pass defense this week.

Yankees Bid Goodbye to Pitcher Bonham

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—The New York Yankees bid goodbye today to Ernie Bonham, veteran right handed pitcher, in their second move since the end of the baseball season to rebuild for 1947.

Waived out of the American league, the 33-year-old Bonham was traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates for Art Cuccurullo, 27-year-old southpaw pitcher, and another player or players to be named at a later date.

OWU Gridder Finds New Son an Incentive

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Oct. 24—Jerry Ensign, Chagrin Falls tackle on the Ohio Wesleyan grid team, has a special incentive these days—a new baby son that arrived just before Ohio Wesleyan played Case several weeks ago.

Jerry paced the floor waiting for the arrival of Christopher Michael Ensign, then went out and played such a good game of football against Case that Coach George Gauthier elevated him to a varsity post on the Bishop team.

Family responsibilities kept him out of action for two weeks but he's back now He may start Saturday for the Bishops against DePauw.

AKRON FIGHTER HOME

AKRON, O., Oct. 24—Charley Roth, veteran Akron heavyweight will be at 7 to 5 favorite to defeat Jimmy Langford of New York when he makes his first hometown appearance in six months in the eight-round headliner of a five-bout boxing show at the armory tonight.

PRE-GAME PEP RALLY HELD AT STADIUM

Arranged by the Harding student council, the pep rally held at the Harding practice field last night was well attended and enthusiasm was evident. Bolstering the team's morale for the traditional contest with Ashland tonight the band, cheer leaders, members of the squad, coaches, school faculty, and fans took part.

The program was opened with the singing of the school fight song and then Captain Mario Nolfi was introduced to the gathering. Following, his parents were introduced to represent all the parents of boys on the squad. Coach Thomas spoke and members of the team were introduced.

Those introduced were Doug Duer, Chuck Cline, Bob Ralston, Don Zeisler, Gene Andrews, Herb Phillians, Jim Rea, Dick Huddle, Jerry Richie, Jim Hill, Jack Hoffman, Leo Coffey, Howard Tillis, Dick Drake, Gene Peadon, and Clarence Smith.

Ann Gifford spoke for the students of the high school and Elmer Smith spoke representing Marion fans E. E. Holt the superintendent of the city schools said a few words and the principal of the high school A. C. May also spoke. Cheering was led by the cheer leaders and a snake dance around the fire climaxed the proceedings.

Alan Cleveland presided as the master of ceremonies and the program was planned by the following from the student council: Ann Hewetson, Bill Taylor, Nancy Pennisten, Mario Nolfi, and Tom Taylor. Miss Brown was the faculty advisor.

AKRON WINS GRID TILT

By The Associated Press

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 24—Akron's American football league team scored two touchdowns on passes from Owen Goodnight to Floyd Wheeler in beating Scranton 20-14 last night in a league game before an estimated 4,000 fans. Scranton took the lead with a tally in the first period on a 10-yard pass, but was unable to score again until the final quarter.

OWU PULLS IN BELT FOR DE PAUW BATTLE

Marion County's Merle Lashey in 3-Way Tilt for Fullback.

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 24—Half way through their rugged grid schedule, Ohio Wesleyan's Battling Bishops pulled in their belts for another whirl on this year's amazing football merry-go-round, with DePauw the next one comeing up.

Coach George Gauthier's satisfied expression these days is a memory of a good Saturday against Oberlin which saw the Bishops half complete their schedule this fall with their third win, after a tie and a setback earlier in the season. The second half of the schedule looms just as tough for the Bishops, but they'll be playing on their home Selby Field for three weeks in a row, and with that incentive, look for a good game against DePauw Saturday afternoon.

Gauthier's biggest smile of the week is a result of the showing his All-Ohio half, Jim Wade, made Saturday. "He did a grand job of ball-carrying," Gauthier commented. And with Wade ready to go, the offensive the Bishops can display will be all the more varied. The fullback berth has turned into a three-way affair with Merle Lashey, Tony McCleery and Tom Lotrecchiano dividing the assignment. (Lashey is from Marion County). All three continue to look good, although Gauthier has them all punting overtime in practice this week to get a few extra yards out of their boots

After DePauw, the Bishops meet Ohio University in 40th annual homecoming on November 2, then play host to Kent State, and close the season with road trips to Denison and Rollins.

Ashland Believes Tonight To Bring First of 8 Wins

In Ashland, sports fans figure that tonight's victory at the stadium will set up a chain of wins for the A's over Harding for at least eight years, according to the Ashland Times-Gazette. Pointing to the fact that Ashland was victorious for approximately eight straight years before Marion started sending them off the field sad and disappointed in contests of the past ten years, they are figuring the pendulum will start swinging the other way commencing with tonight's game. The kick off is scheduled for 8 p m

Prexies Getting Workout

The Prexie Coaches Thomas, Simpson, Wiley, and Petrich have been working the team harder this week than ever before keeping them on the practice field until the ball becomes a blur in the semi-darkness.

Never in the past ten years have the Presidents gone against Ashland with the odds so much against them. Playing their underdog role once more this season. This time against the opponent they have always been out to beat—the Chief Executives will have to surmount tremendous obstacles to achieve that result.

Norman Firebaugh will have to be stopped, the 185 pound line of Ashland will have to be rendered impotent, and the Prexies will have to get some of their backs loose.

It will be a decided upset if the Prexies win tonight but Sandusky, which was beaten by Mansfield 55 to 2, thus making them by comparative scores against the same opponent 33 points weaker than Harding, was only beaten 12 to 8 by the A's. Thus Ashland is only four point stronger than an opponent which is supposedly 33 points weaker than the Chief Execs. So Harding should by those calculations be 29 points stronger than Ashland.

Ashland has lost only one game and has posted a victory over Shelby the leaders in the Northern Ohio League. This may be Ashlands' first victory in ten years but they will have to down a determined Harding squad to achieve it.

Ashland may be weakened by the fact that Danny Smith 200 pound center may be out of the line-up because of a minor injury Prooable starting line up for the A's: Grebus and Strine at the ends, Schomaker and Miller at tackles, Mowrey and Mercer guards, Stewart center or Dave Burns if he is unable to start Harpester will be quarterback, Dick Burns will play at left half, Firebaugh will be in the right half's'ot, and Hurst will be fullback

Galion Tigers Host to Bellevue Tonight

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 24—Galion High school Tigers will be host, Thursday night, to the Bellevue Redmen, at Heise park

The game is being played Thursday night, instead of Friday, on account of the teachers' meeting in Cleveland and Toledo, Friday

The game will be the final home tilt of the Northern Ohio league Galion goes to Willard next week and then closes the season at home with Ashland, a non-league opponent, in two weeks

The Bellevue team has lost all six games they have played this season, but they are coming to Galion hopeful of an upset

Bosox and American League Dominate All-Star Choices

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—Dominated by the Boston Red Sox with four members, the 1946 major league all-star team chosen by the Associated Press by 122 baseball writers showed a strong American league complexion, with seven representatives to the National league's three.

The St. Louis Cardinals, World Series conquerors of the Red Sox, landed all three National league positions.

One player each from Detroit, Cleveland and the New York Yankees completed the roster and gave the American league its huge majority.

Of the 10 men selected (two pitchers were named), eight are former servicemen.

No player was a unanimous choice. Ted Williams drew the most support, the Boston Red Sox outfielder being named in 120 of the 122 ballots cast. Bobby Doerr, his teammate, ranked next with 117 votes. Then came Hal Newhouser, Detroit Tiger ace lefthander, with 102, and Stan Musial of the Cardinals, with 96. Musial received 81 votes for first base, the rest for center and right fields.

The Selections

Outfielder—Ted Williams, Red Sox; Dom DiMaggio, Red Sox; and Enos Slaughter, Cardinals.

First Base—Stan Musial, Cardinals.

Second Base—Bobby Doerr, Red Sox.

Third Base—George Kurowski, Cardinals.

Shortstop—Johnny Pesky, Red Sox.

Catcher—Aaron Robinson, Yankees.

Pitchers—Hal Newhouser, Tigers, and Bob Feller, Indians.

The closest race developed for third base when Kurowski nosed out George Kell of the Tigers, 57 to 55, with only a scattering vote for four others. The widest divergence of opinion involved the catchers, nine receiving support.

One of the biggest surprises was the failure of Hank Greenberg, the majors' home run and runs batted in king, to receive a single vote. The Tiger first baseman, off to a slow start this season, finished strong to wrest the slugging leadership from Williams with 44 home runs and 126 runs batted in.

Had Little Competition

Newhouser and Feller, Mr. Left and Mr. Right respectively, had little competition among the pitchers. Only three other hurlers, Dave (Boo) Ferriss of the Red Sox, Howie Pollet of the Cardinals and Johnny Sain, 20-game winner of the Boston Braves, received mention. Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, who won three games for the Cards in the recent World Series, did not get a vote.

The all-star squad represents a tremendous punch at the plate. Led by Musial with .365 and Williams, with .342, the team's composite batting average, not including the pitchers, is .318.

Meantime, pitchers Newhouser and Feller, tied for the most victories at 26 apiece, had a combined total of 52 wins against 24 defeats. Included were 16 shutouts, one no-hitter and two one-hitters.

HOGAN LEADS FIELD AT RICHMOND OPEN

By The Associated Press

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 24—Methodical Ben Hogan, professional golf's leading money winner of 1946 from Hershey, Pa., tees off with 160 other contestants today in the opening round of the $10,000 Richmond Open Golf tournament, favored to repeat his victory of 1945 over the tricky Hermitage Country club course.

He'll have plenty of competition from a sparkling array of the nation's top pros, including five others in the bracket of the 10 leading money winners.

Besides Hogan, leading in total money with $37,877, those in the "top ten" competing here include Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y.; Herman Keiser of Akron, O.; Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., the British open king and sentimental favorite in the tourney here; Jim Ferrier of Chicago; and Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kans.

Barron is third leading money winner; Keiser, in fifth place, won the Augusta masters last spring, and Ferrier and Metz rank eighth and ninth, respectively, in the moneyed ten.

Dance Steps Help College Halfback

By The Associated Press

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 24—Geneva college gridders took to terpischorean training this season to improve their footwork and halfback Larry Bruno learned a "pigskin Pirouette" so well that he is setting the point-making pace in Pennsylvania's intercollegiate football.

Coach Alfred (Slim) Ransom introduced dance routines to supplement orthodox gridiron training and attributes some of Bruno's scoring success to the idea.

Bruno—203-pound five foot 11-inch senior from East Liverpool, O., had scored eight touchdowns in four games for Geneva. One point after touchdown makes his total to date 49 points—one more than last season's winning state total, rung up by Joe Tepsic, then with Penn State.

"I think the rhythm and timing Bruno developed in the training steps helped make him the fast and shifty runner he is today," said Ransom. "The boy is as effective around the ends as he is through the line, where his power gets him through for breakaway runs."

Bruno is an army veteran with Pacific combat experience, the son of a tailor. He had three years of varsity play before the war interrupted his college career.

OHIO UNIVERSITY'S GIANT TACKLES. In Gene Ruzakowski (left) of Cleveland and John Kerns of Geneva, Ohio university has a couple of mighty big and rugged tackles. Ruzakowski weighs 236 and Kerns 230. Both stand 6-3 and are two of eight lettermen on the 50-man Bobcat squad. They are part of the reason the university is confident they'll keep their record of never having lost a homecoming game in Ohio U. stadium intact. The Bobcats will entertain Miami Saturday afternoon.

Big Nine Teams Take Final Sessions for Weekend Tilts

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—Skipping across the Big Nine football chalk lines:

Minnesota — Eight newcomers were added to the Gophers' traveling squad which will meet Ohio State at Columbus Saturday with most of the changes in the lineup being made because of injuries to regulars. . . . The squad was to leave Minneapolis by train today and will work out on the University of Dayton field, Dayton, O., tomorrow.

Iowa—Hawkeye practice sessions, emphasizing an aerial offensive against Notre Dame, uncovered a fourth passer yesterday in left halfback Bob Sullivan.

Michigan—Gene Derricotte and Bob Chappuis alternated at the tailback spot yesterday as the Wolverines went through an intensive drill in preparation for its game with Illinois. There was no indication as to who would get the starting assignment Saturday.

Illinois—Capt. Mac Wenskunas, center, who missed two games because of a shoulder injury, rejoined the first team yesterday. . . . End Frank Bauman was shifted to left tackle and will hold down that post against Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Purdue—The Boilermakers were to wind up preparations for Pittsburgh today and will leave tomorrow for the Steel City. . . . Fullback George Papach, who has not seen action since the Iowa game because of a leg injury, may be in the lineup Saturday and probably will be used as offensive support for Fullback Ed Cody.

Indiana—Capt. Howard Brown, left guard, and end Abe Addams may be kept out of the Hoosiers' lineup against Nebraska at Lincoln Saturday. They are listed as part of the traveling squad but have not yet fully recovered from injuries. . . . The long distance punting and accurate passing of Jimmy Cox has elevated him to the No. 2 quarterback spot.

Northwestern—Right end Ken Wiltgen was elected by his Wildcat teammates as acting captain for the game against College of the Pacific Saturday.

Wisconsin—The Badgers, idle this week-end, continued to work at a leisurely pace. . . . The varsity centered its attention to polishing its attack and the third team scrimmaged against the "B" team which faces Marquette in a return game at Milwaukee Friday night. . . . First string center Fred Negus missed drill because of a cold.

CAGE SCHEDULE SET

CINCINNATI, Oct. 24—Lew Hirt, Xavier university's basketball coach, today announced a 19-game scheduled for his 1946-47 cage Musketeers. The team will open the season at Anderson, Ind. college Dec. 6, play five more road games and participate in Indiana state's tournament Dec. 26-27 at Terre Haute before making its first local appearance Jan. 3 against Ohio Wesleyan.

"The Girls Wrestle Here Tonight"

It's a sure thing that the Marion Armory will be packed tonight for whenever the girls are here the fans are in for a lot of excitement and tonight Promoter Fishbaugh has signed a pair of the leading ones, Evelyn Wall of Texas, and Mattie Ball of Tulsa, Okla. These girls will weigh around 125 lbs. and that means a lot of fast action. They will grapple over a 30 minute route with the best two out of three falls.

The other main event looks very good, too, as Steve Nemeff who won over Farmer Jones will try to do the same thing to the rough Englishman from London, Jack Terry.

A ten minute prelim will open the show at 8:30. Prices (all taxes paid) General Admission 75c. Reserved Ringside $1.80 and $2.20, under 16 years, 50c. If you haven't your seats call 2746 for the best after six o'clock.—Adv.

NEW YORK RODEO SET FOR 21ST OPENING

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 — Riding the old Manhattan trail for the 21st time, the lean weather-beaten cowhands from the Far West are giving blase New Yorkers their annual taste of live horse opera with the "World Championship Rodeo."

Sophisticates who look down the end of the nose at such "corn" may be surprised to learn that the cow 'rassilin' will draw about $1,500,000 into the Madison Square Garden coffers during its 32 performance stand. Only the circus does better.

Unofficial estimates place the total attendance at 450,000 by the time of the Sunday night closing.

Top man of the New York show figures to take away about $7,500 of the $154,040 prize money. But the season, now almost over, runs about 11 months and rewards its highest winner with $25,000 income.

All contestants have to pay entry fees and no regular salaries are dished out. The cowhands must subsist on prize money which sometimes runs thin for the less skilled or unlucky members.

Although the average hand grosses about $7,000 annually, Earl Lindsey, business representative of the boys, figures a man has a good year if he winds up with $3,000 net to take back home for the winter.

But despite broken legs, concussions and rib fractures the cowboys keep coming back for more, some of them until they are 50 years old.

GI's Teach Sports To German Police

BERLIN — American soldiers who made a tremendous hit with German children by giving them classes in baseball, have now taken up the chore of instructing Berlin's civilian police in basketball and volleyball.

The cops also wanted instruction in baseball, but their request came too late in the season and will be reconsidered in the spring.

Berlin's police in prewar years had some proficient basketball teams, but their new, deNazified ranks don't know much about the game.

When the commander of the police force asked the U. S. Military Government's Public Safety branch for some coaching, AMG asked soldiers to volunteer. A daily course was arranged in an American sector gymnasium called "Madison Square Garden." The cops trained there, drawn from all sectors of the city, will return to their units and coach others.

Head of the coaching staff is Pfc William Hornig, 26, Newark, N. J., who was an allsports man at Newark's East Side high school.

19-Year-Old Hurler Signs with Red Farm

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 24 — Fred (Whitey) Hulet, 19-year-old semi-pro righthander, yesterday announced he had signed a contract with Columbia, S. C., the Cincinnati Reds' farm club in the South Atlantic baseball league. Hulet, six-one and 180 pounds, hurled two no-hit games for a local team this season.

HERSHEY LEADING IN EASTERN HOCKEY

By The Associated Press

Hershey's Bears once again are off to a flying start in the American Hockey league's Eastern division.

The Bears racked up their fifth straight victory without a setback last night by trouncing the Philadelphia Rockets, 8-1.

The win boosted their sectional lead over the idle New Haven Ramblers to three points while the loss was the fifth in a row for the tail-end Rockets.

Cleveland's Western division front-running Barons suffered their first loss of the season when the Springfield Indians came from behind and scored four times in the third period to down the Barons, 6-4.

Harry Frost rammed home what proved to be the winning goal at 18:30 of the final chapter. Frost also tallied the Indians' second goal while Johnny Holota scored twice to pace the Baron offensive. The victory was Springfield's first of the year.

In the only other game, the Providence Reds battled the Buffalo Bisons to a 4-4 tie at Buffalo.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—Look out for the flood. . . . While the football coaches still are in mid-season crying form, college basketball tutors are beginning to shed copious tears about the lack of practice space. . . . Several schools—Villanova, Indiana, Virginia to name a few—have been using their gymnasia as temporary dormitories and the cagers can't maneuver between bunks. . . . A lot of others find there are more sports-minded students than there are seats in the gyms so they're having season-ticket trouble. . . . Virginia Tech, which wants to branch out as a big-time sports school, had feelers from a lot of eastbound big teams. But Tech couldn't pay guarantees without selling tickets and there isn't room for all the undergraduates. . . . Another ambitious college, Wayne of Detroit, has been dickering to rent the state fair grounds coliseum for a "home" court.

Today's Guest Star

Francis E. Stann, Washington Star: "Tennessee 12; Alabama 0—five or six weeks from now, when the Rose Bowl committee extends an invitation, another way of scoring this game may be Tennessee $125,000; Alabama 0."

Natural Conclusion

Dumb Dan Morgan says that Jack Brittan and Ted Kid Lewis fought each other 22 times and never shook hands. . . . Probably by the last time they were so old that their hands shook anyway.

Cleaning the Cuff

Before Oklahoma U. played Texas in the Cotton Bowl, tackle Wade Walker said he always had wanted to see a real big crowd. But when the Sooners ran onto the field, Walker was so intent on the game he forgot to look at the 50,507 fans. . . . The Dodgers have grabbed the best strikeout battery in the Piedmont league from their Newport News, Va., farm—pitcher Wayne Johnson, who whiffed over 300, and catcher Gil Hodges, who was named all-league player in that position although he had been an infielder before the war.

200 Attend Ashley's First P.-T.A. Meeting

Special to The Star

ASHLEY — More than 200 attended the first meeting of Ashley P.-T. A. held in the school auditorium, Monday night. Rev. H. L. Borden gave the invocation and the audience was welcomed by Mrs. Doris Graham, first vice president of the association.

The treasurer, Mrs. Helen Kohler announced a balance of $77.63 in the treasury and stated that 197 members have paid dues for this year. S. C. Powers, chairman of the program committee, announced that at the next meeting, Mrs. Hook, a psychologist from Ohio Wesleyan university will be speaker.

Mr. Powers then introduced G. E. McFarland, superintendent of Delaware county schools, whose subject was, "Problems of Delaware County Schools."

R. B. Warner, superintendent of Ashley school, spoke of local problems, spoke of the increased cost of maintaining the school activities and strongly recommended that all vote for the two mill school levy; the organization went on record as indorsing the levy, and the meeting adjourned.

Teachers welcomed by the audience were Miss Esther Jaffe, music director, Thorval Mattox, coach and Robert Thurston, mathematics.

SOY BEAN CROP TWICE PREWAR

"Wonder Bean" Brings "Wondrous Prices" as Farmers Reap Harvest.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 24—Soy beans, the "wonder bean" of the Orient, today was returning wondrous prices to farmers harvesting a crop almost twice as large as those produced immediately prior to the war.

When price ceilings were removed from fats and oils last week they went off this "Little Honorable God," as the Chinese long ago named the soya bean. Since decontrol prices have spurted to record highs.

Beans are selling in the Chicago market at around $3.50 a bushel. This compares with a ceiling of $2.32½ in effect before decontrol.

Demand for beans is urgent and comes from many sources. Soy beans, when crushed, produce oil—and this oil is used in such every day products as salad oil, cooking fats, margarine, soap, candy, paint, linoleum and varnishes. Practically all these products are in short supply.

Another result of the crushing process is soy bean meal, which has a high protein content and is used to feed livestock. Soy bean flour is used as a filling for sausages, as well as in making crackers, wafers and macaroni.

Bids going out to the country from some of these buyers last night were as high as $3.45 a bushel, on track in Illinois and Indiana.

In addition to domestic demand, foreign countries were reported by trade sources as jumping into the market.

"This year's soy bean harvest is estimated at 183,432,000 bushels. The agriculture department said this is lightly lower than for any war year but "is almost 75 per cent higher than in 1941, the peak year of pre-war soy bean production." Besides Illinois and Indiana, big producing states are Iowa, Ohio, Missouri, Minnesota and Arkansas.

The soya bean has an Oriental history dating back at least 4,000 years, but it was not planted in this country until after the First World War.

Congress May Kill Withered OPA in January, Officials Say

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—Congress may kill OPA in January, some high administration officials predicted today.

But they added that by then only a slim list of very scarce, badly needed items in addition to rent will remain under ceilings.

As if to emphasize this forecast, OPA snatched its price tags from cosmetics and a long list of non-food products today in a quick follow-up to last midnight's sweeping food and beverage decontrol.

Together the two actions swept overboard another big segment of wage control because the government applies its pay curbs only when higher price ceilings are involved.

1,500,000 Cut Loose

Statisticians said that in the case of food and restaurant industries alone, some 1,500,000 workers were cut loose from wage control.

On the food list, only sugar, syrups and rice remain under OPA.

Frankly acknowledging that there is widespread belief in the government that congress will come back primed to knock out OPA quickly and finally, one ranking official said privately the policy between now and year's end will be get rid of ceilings rapidly but in orderly sequence.

This official said the view is that it would be to President Truman's official advantage to trim the controlled list to the bone, the let congress take the responsibility if it wants to go the rest of the way.

Housewives and their husbands meanwhile watched retail costs at groceries, restaurants and liquor stores, as OPA officials predicted the cost of living and drinking would certainly go up, at least temporarily, as a result of the bread to beer retreat from ceilings.

One OPA food authority said increases can be expected in bread and baked goods; jams, jellies and preserves; dry beans, canned fish; bananas and most whisky.

Trade sources generally expected some temporary price rises but said there should be a gradual return to the old price system of supply and demand.

Liquor industry spokesmen predicted that some aged bourbon, scotch and other whisky may appear again but at somewhat higher prices. They said OPA ceilings had tended to keep them from markets.

Besides cosmetics, with soap excluded, today's new decontrol list ranged from hot water bottles and other drug sundries to assorted lumber and paper items.

The lumber items are the few needed neither in home building nor for pulp paper.

Dr. Busler Presides

Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor and ... of the school, presided, Miss ... Huffman and C. H. In... chairman of the Epworth ... of education, offered pray... and Mrs. E. N. Hale led con... gregational singing accompanied by Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence.

In her message, Dr. Overton stated at the beginning that "America, with all her good points, has yet been unfair to her youth in neglecting to train for the primary relationship of life, marriage and family living."

Outlining the history of marriage and the family, she named four patterns of marriage with the last, calling for the highest level of conduct, marital fidelity, developed in this country. "The 'romantic pattern' has been given our youth, with no training to meet the kind of living we demand, and this has resulted in beginning a breakdown in cultural patterns for the best family life and morals," she declared.

"'Trouble spots' of marriage, the places where "romance meets realism," she lister as family and "in-law" domination continuing after the young people are married, and conflicting ideas and ideals of which religious differences are representative. "There must be common spiritual resources for both of the partners," she stressed. "Youth is 'interrupted' and perplexed today," she said, "and must be taught the ideology and philosophy that will carry through to preserve the sanctity of the American home."

Problem for Church

This is a job for the church and for Christian people, she said, with parents insisting on education for marriage in the public schools, providing places where young people can get together for wholesome recreation, and developing the right attitudes of understanding toward their children's problems.

The School of Religion will continue four Wednesday nights, and next week's special speaker will be Dr. John Rustin, pastor of Mt. Vernon Place Methodist church in Washington, D. C. The programs are broadcast over radio station WMRN. Classes begin at 7:30 p. m. followed by the lecture hour.

MRS. AUGENSTEIN DIES AT BARBERTON HOME

Funeral Services To Be Held Here Sunday..

Mrs. Caroline Augenstein, 74, a sister of Marion residents, died suddenly in her home at Barberton at 11:30 Wednesday night. Cause of death was pronounced a heart attack. The body will be brought here for funeral services Sunday.

Born Nov. 4, 1871, in Germany, she was a daughter of Frederick and Elizabeth Knappenberger Ruth. Her husband, John Augenstein, died Nov. 27, 1944.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Viola Close and Mrs. Norma Meeks, both of Barberton, a granddaughter, Miss Ruth Close, and three brothers, Frank and Fred Ruth of Marion, and William Ruth of Barberton.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home on East Center street. Burial will be at Cardington. Friends may call at the funeral home after Saturday noon.

Price of Bread To Remain, Baker Says

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24—The price of bread "may remain at approximately the same level as before it was decontroled on the basis of present costs" but sweetgoods prices probably will advance slightly, Secretary Roy Ferguson of the Ohio Bakers association said today.

Ferguson declined a specific prediction "until the effect of decontrol on the cost of ingredients is determined."

Bellefontaine Attorney Given Donithen Post

Col. Edward K. Campbell of Bellefontaine, senior vice president of the Ohio Bar association, has been appointed to the association's executive committee to fill a vacancy created by the death of the late H. Alfred Donithen of Marion.

The appointment was made by the association's executive committee, according to Howard F. Guthery, Marion attorney and president of the Ohio Bar association.

Col. Campbell is associated with the Campbell and Thompson law firm in Bellefontaine and served in the infantry in World War I. He was a personal friend of the late Mr. Donithen who was appointed to the association's executive committee in July.

Arthur J. Todd, Springfield attorney, was named by the executive committee to succeed Campbell as senior vice president.

Training Meeting Held by Employes of Cooler

First in a series of foremanship training meetings for employes of Universal Cooler division of Detrola International, Inc., was held at Hotel Harding last night. About 60 foremen and supervisory personnel attended.

F. S. McNeal, Detrola vice president and Universal Cooler general manager, was chairman of the meeting. Speakers included S. T. Rose, director of industrial relations; T. S. Pendergast, sales manager; William Highan, chief engineer; and R. E. Hunt, works manager. The foremanship program, which will include leadership training, is under direction of S. T Rose.

John Smith Shows Pictures of Philadelphia Athletics.

Entertainment at the Y's Men's club weekly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night was furnished by motion pictures of Florida shown by John Smith and a group of songs by the Harding High school ensemble, a girls vocal ocette.

Mr. Smith's pictures of his trip to Florida included shots of the Philadelphia Athletics training camp, including Connie Mack, Buddy Rosar, Al Simmons, Buck Newsom and other star players. Also included were pictures of beachside homes taken from a motorboat. Familiar scenes of Marion were also included in Mr Smith's collection.

The Harding High school ocelte, which is directed by L. G. Jones, sang three songs, "Without a Song," "Delia" and "The Dancers." Those in the group are Rose Marie Hinamon, Nancy Anthony, Dorothy Rhodes, Polly Biggert, Yvonne Metzger, Mary Ellen Hinamon, Joyce Snyder and Betty Weiser. They were accompanied on the piano by Ann Ferguson.

JAMES E. BATHURST

Industrial Relations Specialist To Speak

James E. Bathurst, industrial relations specialist for the National Association of Foremen, will be the speaker Monday night when the Marion Foremen's club meets at the Eagles hall. The meeting will open with a dinner at 6:30 p. m. Harold H. Douthitt, industrial relations director for the Marion Power Shovel Co. and president of the club, will be in charge.

Born on a Kansas farm where he lived for fifteen years, Mr. Bathurst started his industrial career as a shop mechanic and advanced to foreman before he began special training in personnel and management problems.

He is a speaker and writer. Widely traveled in this country and abroad as a Fellow of the Rockefeller Foundation, he engaged in a number of speaking tours and is the author of more than a score of articles, bulletins and various publications.

Miss Mary Lou Jenny Named Marysville Queen

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Oct. 24—Miss Mary Lou Jenny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Jenny, will reign as "Queen" at the high school homecoming game when Mt. Gilead plays Marysville in a Mid-State League tilt here Friday night. Her attendants will be Janie Rausch and Ethel Monroe.

The three girls, members of the senior class, were chosen by vote of senior high students. Miss Jenny's father is manager of Union Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., and state president of the Managers' Association of Ohio Rural Electric Cooperatives.

TICKETS ABOUT GONE FOR FORUM SERIES

First Lecture Nov. 3 by Louis P. Lochner.

A few tickets still are available for the Marion Chamber of Commerce Sunday Afternoon Forum series, according to a report today from the Chamber of Commerce office.

Tickets for the forum, which opens Nov. 3, are available at the Chamber of Commerce office, the Prospect Monitor office in Prospect and the Campbell National bank in LaRue. Marion residents also may secure tickets at the cigar stand in Hotel Harding.

The forums will be held at Edison Junior High school auditorium and will start at 2:30 p. m. Local business men will act as moderators, with Paul Hunt presiding at the first meeting.

Speaker for the first forum will be Louis P. Lochner, Pulitzer prize winner, lecturer and author. Mr. Lochner was for 15 years chief of the Berlin Bureau of The Associated Press. He was the last American correspondent to leave Berlin in 1942 and the first to return there after the war.

HAYRIDE PLANS MADE

When Marion Chapter No. 288, Order of DeMolay, met Friday night in the Masonic temple, plans were completed for a hayride Saturday night. A potluck dinner preceded the meeting. A drill team is being formed by the chapter. Four petitions for membership were received.

ASSORTED STOCKS MAKE FAIR GAINS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—Assorted stocks continued to make a fair amount of progress in today's markets while many leaders stumbled.

Decontrols of food, liquor and other consumer items continued to buoy bullish sentiment, brokers reported, but numerous customers held to the cautious side because of growing labor disputes threatening industrial production.

Resistant were Republic Steel, South Porto Rico Sugar, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, Electric Power and Light, Anaconda, Southern Railway and Consolidated Edison. Laggards were Schenley, National Distillers, Philip Morris, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Great Northern, American Telephone and Woolworth.

Truman Lauds Clark Action on Estonians

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—Commending the action of Attorney General Clark in staying the deportation of 18 Estonian refugees, President Truman expressed the hope today that immigration laws can be amended for the benefit of such persons.

Clark's action in the case of the Estonians, who sailed from Sweden to Miami, Fla., in a small fishing sloop, was announced just before a White House news conference. The group, lacking immigration visas, had been ordered to leave this country today.

Mr. Truman told newsmen he has not looked into the group's situation officially, but that he felt sorry for them.

He expressed hope that immigration laws can be amended so that political refugees may be provided for in proper cases. He emphasized that legislation will be required.

MOTIVES OF HIGHER EDUCATION EXAMINED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24—"The basic objectives, the whole philosophy of higher education is open to question," Dr. Harold L. Yochum declared today as he was inaugurated president of Capital university in colorful academic ceremonies.

Robed representatives of more than 150 colleges and universities listened as the newly inducted educator in a prepared speech called upon colleges to provide greater direction for living.

"The criticism of higher education, which seems to me most significant and all too valid is that it fails to educate for effective living.

"Either it is vocational training, which is not equivalent to education, or else purely academic in the field of liberal arts and appallingly irrelevant," the Capital president continued.

Pointing out that colleges must teach students the way to live successfully in a crowded community, Dr. Yochum said that "all too often our educational institutions have contributed to wrong motivations."

"In the past motivation has been largely in terms of the four P's—profit, power, pride and pleasure," he declared. "Above all else, higher education must provide right motivation, that people may have a right sense of direction and an adequate impelling force."

Programs on the Air

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 24—The trickle of home television sets coming from the factories, which up to now has been more like a slow drip-drip, finally is beginning to assume some aspects of a steady flow. Production figures for September show a rather sudden jump to 3,242 units.

This, reports the Radio Manufacturers' association, compared with 225 for all of the previous eight months of 1946. While quite a block of the receivers was intended for dealer and other display purposes, an important share already has been sold, particularly in the New York area.

Telecasting activities are keeping pace. The United Nations assembly in New York is one reason. Both NBC and CBS put on yesterday's opening and President Truman's address, while for both today and tomorrow NBC scheduled morning and afternoon views.

Addition for tonight: MBS 10:15 Rep. Joseph A. Martin of Massachusetts giving "Republican answer to President Truman." This will be the third network to carry a reply to the President's recent broadcast on decontrol of meat.

• • •

Topics tonight: NBC—7:30 Dennis Day's day; 8 Henry Aldrich; 8:30 Burns and Allen; 9:30 Jack Haley; 10 Abbott and Costello; 10:30 Eddie Cantor show.

CBS—7:30 Mr. Keen's Drama; 8 Suspense Mystery "Dame Fortune"; 9 Dick Haymes show; 9:30 Crime Photographer; 10 Constance Bennett in "Mr. and Mrs. Cugat."

ABC—7:30 Prof. Quiz quizzing; 8:30 America's Town meeting "Are American Communists a threat to trade unionism?" 10:30 Fantasy in Melody.

MBS—8 Mark Warnow's sound-off; 8:30 Vic and Sade; 9:30 Mary Small songs; 10:30 I Was a Convict, anti-crime series.

All times given are Eastern Standard Time. Erroneous listings, if any, are caused by last-minute changes made by stations and networks.

Transcription Industry Receives "Final Offer"

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 24—A "final offer" calling for a 50 per cent wage increase, has been made to the transcription industry by James C. Petrillo, president of the AFL American Federation of Musicians, and he says a strike would start Sunday unless an agreement was reached.

Petrillo said the latest offer represented the second reduction in the original demands by the AFM and would bring pay of musicians to $27 an hour. Last week the AFM reached an agreement with the recording industry on the basis of a 37½ per cent wage hike.

The AFM president said that unless contracts were signed by Saturday, no musicians would make transcriptions, which are chiefly for radio use.

SOY BEAN PRICES HIT RECORD HIGH HERE

Payments $10 an Acre Above Last Year.

Soy bean prices in Marion county have soared to a new all time high, and although yields in most sections are considerably below average, farmers are receiving nearly $10 an acre more for their soy bean crops this year than in 1945, according to farm leaders and mill officials today.

Mills in Marion and the county today were paying farmers approximately $3.15 a bushel for soy beans, compared to a $2.10 a bushel ceiling price last year. Mill and elevator officials said the price was the highest they had ever known for soy beans used for commercial purposes and not for seed.

The Marion county soy bean harvest is between 65 and 75 per cent complete, farm leaders and mill officials believe, and the county's 20,105 acres of the crop are expected to yield about 20 per cent less soy beans than last year, due to the dry weather during the late summer when plants were maturing.

Average yield in the county is about 15 bushels to the acre, compared to an average yield of nearly 25 bushels. Most soy beans are of good quality but some are small, mill officials said.

Average yield in the county last year was about 18 bushels to the acre, according to reports, and farm leaders pointed out that while farmers last year received about $37.80 an acre for their soy bean crops with the ceiling price at $2.10, they are receiving about $47.25 an acre this year with prices at $3.15 a bushel.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I HESITATED for an instant after Harry Underwood led the five guards away, wishing that I had asked him how Sam Brixton had stood the journey. But even as I turned to go, the door of my father's suite opened once more, and this time Katharine came through it.

Characteristically she did not speak until she had closed the door, then she came swiftly up to me.

"You're just the person I want most to see," she said.

"And I, you," I told her, "but I didn't dare to knock. How did Sam stand the journey?"

"Splendidly," she answered. "But you didn't come up here just for that. I know your humane instincts, but I don't think you were that anxious. If you were, I shall consider it my duty to speak to Dicky about it."

"Katie sent me up to find out when to start frying eggs for the five guards," I said.

"She'd need to know," she commented. "The Chief is hell bent on getting those men started back. Hes got too much dynamite planted around here to risk chance spectators. But I want to know just one thing. Where's Jack, and did anybody but a questioning eyebrow at that gorgeous disguise of his? Did you ever see anything so nifty? I'll call all the minor prophets to witness that if I hadn't known he was to be in that other car, I wouldn't have known my own husband."

Everything Safe

"You would have been a New England witch ready for the stake if you had recognized him," I told her. "But he made sanctuary all right. Father personally took him inside the house, attended by Junior and Roderick, and said he was taking him directly down to the secret room where Hugh and Lee Chow are domiciled. The fact that Father is back,—he's in his suite, isn't he?—means that everything is safe."

"Oh! yes, he's in there," Katharine said, "and apparently in high good humor. So I can rest my worry muscles. I won't keep you any longer. I'm on my way to fetch Helena and Carolyn for a two minute good night to Sam. If I get a chance I'm going to tell Lillian to give 'em some cyanide for a night cap."

"Tell her to give her a double dose for me," I said, laughing. "By the way, what shall I tell Katie about a tray for Sam? I suppose you'll want one."

"Your supposition is eminently correct," she said. "I'll send down a memorandum with Dr. Twitchell when you summon him to dinner. And that would better be soon. He's a starved medico if I ever saw one."

"Katie's dinner is virtually ready," I said. "As soon as she gets these guards off her hands, she'll serve the home folks. But I must fly back so she can start the eggs. When will you eat?"

"When Dr. Twitchell's tummy is nice and full," she said as we hurried down the corridor.

"He'll come back and stay with Sam while I eat," she aded, and then our ways branched and I dashed back to the kitchen, conscious that I had but a minute or two to spare because of my colloquy with Katharine.

But Katie was armed for action. The eggs were broken on a plate for the first frying, and she was hovering over a frying pan filled with ham and bacon fat—the most appetizing odor in the world.

"I so 'fraid dees get too hot," she said worriedly as I came through the door. "Ven dey coom down?"

"They'll be here in another minute or two," I said, and her eyebrows unknitted as she put the pan over a hotter flame and deftly tipped the plate of eggs into it.

"Dot's all right," she said. "Vun meenit as goot as hour. I vas afraid dey would be here in tree seconds or so. Me, I like to be right on time."

A Tasty Meal

Two minutes later, with the eggs appetizingly arranged against the ham and dish of fried potatoes flanking them, Harry Underwood came to the door.

"All set, Katie?" he asked cheerily.

"Sure ting," she answered cockily. "Me, I nefer keep nobody waiting."

"Then I'll turn these boys over to you," she said, and as the men filed into the breakfast room he indicated he beckoned to me surreptitiously, and I followed him down the corridor to my little study.

"Put me wise, Lady Fair," he said, "about the angles of this Brixton mess."
